SEAMEN ON BIG LINERS REFUSE TO "SIGN ON"

Six Hundred and Fifty Men on the Teutonic and Empress of Ireland Quit Their Jobs—Strike Fever is Spreading—Montreal is Looking For Trouble

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, June 15.—The international strike of Seamen is slowly spreading throughout the European countries. Today the crews of the steamers Teutonic and Empress of Ireland numbering 350 and 300 respectively, refused to sign on.

Yesterday afternoon the International Seamen's Union issued a proclamation stating that the signal for the international strike would be given throughout the United Kingdom, France, Belgium, Holland and Scandinavia last night. So far it has not materialized.

Montreal is Preparing

Montreal, June 15.—While it is improbable that the International Seamen's strike will greatly affect Montreal, it is not unlikely that trouble will arise between the local longshoremen's union and the principal shipping firms using this port.

TORONTO EDITOR TELLS OF THE COAST BEAUTY

Says it Would be Hard in the Whole World to Find a Voyage More Full of Charm Than the Trip From Vancouver to Prince Rupert—It Impressed Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

"It is not easy to match elsewhere in the world the rare pleasure and interest of a summer journey down one of the great rivers of British Columbia. It would be still harder to find a voyage as full of charm, of the sense of rest, of changing beauty, as that from Vancouver to Prince Rupert," says the Toronto News in an editorial article.

A Fine Holiday

In less than five days one makes the return journey in the Prince George of the Prince Rupert of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, save for three short hours always in inland channels, and through scenery as impressive as the earth affords. The vessels are new, clean, well equipped and well officered. The trip begets with all its interest an infinite laziness, and just that sense of peace and rest for which the holiday traveler always seeks and so seldom finds.

"It is certain that as the years pass few visitors to the coast will want to return home without taking this voyage and no doubt when the rail route to Prince Rupert is completed many travelers to the Pacific outpost will return to Vancouver by water.

Pleased Sir Wilfrid

It is said that nothing so lingered in the memory of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his associates who visited the West last summer as the sail to Prince Rupert. That must be the testimony of all who have made the voyage. The completion of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern Railways, will aside from all commercial considerations, give us new revelations of majestic sea, river and mountain scenery and eventually make the Pacific province one of the world's playgrounds.

About Prince Rupert

"Prince Rupert itself is a remarkable illustration of human courage and enterprise. Resting on a bed of rock out of which the very streets must be blasted, it faces a harbor of noble proportions, and is surrounded by climbing forests and overshadowing hills of great beauty and dignity. We may wonder what is to be its future and the slow Eastern imagination may even doubt if it is to have a future. But such have not caught the spirit of the West nor felt the sublime confidence which inspires its achievements.

Growth Will Come

"If one thinks of the amazing growth of Vancouver and the remarkable revival of Victoria to say nothing of Winnipeg and the younger cities of the plains, he will be slow to set bounds to Prince Rupert and will be wise to hold his peace in the face of the serene confidence of the Western optimist. Already the Grand Trunk Pacific Company has built for more than one hundred miles eastward from Prince Rupert on a level grade at a cost of between $85,000 and $100,000 a mile.

Great Fishing Centre

"There are those who say that in ten years there will be a fishing population of thirty thousand around Prince Rupert. There will be salmon, halibut and herring fishing each certain of immense development and in which American and British capitalists already are interested. For last year the estimated salmon pack on the Skeena was 180,000 cases. There is rich agricultural land, there is timber, and there are minerals."

PRUDHOMME GETS LICENSE RENEWED

plication of the Savoy Hotel License be considered applicable to the period beyond July 15th?

Mr. Prudhomme said briefly that the application was intended to apply to the period beyond July 15th.

"Then why didn't you say so?" said the City Solicitor.

Mr. A. M. Manson (for Mr. Prudhomme) said that at the time the application was framed no actual license was in operation, neither had the mandamus been issued. It was not thought in order, to make application for a renewal until the existence of the license to be renewed had been established by law.

The City Solicitor read the terms of the by-law on applications for renewal. "You seem to me to be in the position of having no application in for a renewal at all," he said. "Your application is dated to be effective on June 14th. Why did you not make it effective from July 15th?"

Mr. Manson—"Because we wanted the license if granted to take effect as early as possible after renewal. Our application manifestly means that we want the license to be granted and take effect from July 15th also."

The City Solicitor—"I cannot yet see why you put in that application for the 14th of June."

Does Board Refuse?

The Chairman—"Just let us get to the bottom of this. I don't want to be here for twenty-four hours. Is this an application for renewal of license on 15th July?"

Mr. Manson explained that it was not intended as an application for a license that did not exist at the time of framing it but

A NEW BEACON IN THE HARBOR

Conical Buoy off Fairview Has Been Withdrawn and Concrete Beacon Built Instead.

Pilots, mariners, and all residents of Prince Rupert and district who have occasion to go in and out of the harbor are informed that the old red conical buoy heretofore moored off Fairview has been withdrawn, and instead a beacon has been established on the rock that dries off Fairview.

The new beacon is a concrete structure in the form of a cube, surmounted by a pyramid. It is 22 feet high. The Dominion Government have established it there as a permanent aid to navigation.

JOHNSTON'S BOAT HOUSE

New Premises at Cow Creek—Everything in Boats

Some of the best and most up-to-date gasoline launches, row boats and canoes in Prince Rupert and along the Northern B. C. coast were built by Mr. H. Johnston, at his new boathouse, at Cow Creek.

Mr. Johnston recently moved his plant from Hays Creek to larger premises at Cow Creek which is nearer the city. He is now building some serviceable and good looking craft for several people in the city and district.

He also has all kinds of boats for hire by hour or day at a very reasonable price and everything in repairs to boats can be done at the new plant. Mr. Johnston's postal address is Box 187.

"ROMEO" VICKERS BROKE HIS LEG

That's Why Poor Old 'Romeo' Is Limping Round Like a Lady in an Ultra Hobbie Skirt These Days.

"Romeo" Vickers is limping around the police station today with his leg in a sling and is an object of much sympathy from magistrates, police, and even an occasional culprit. With a couple of canine companions Romeo was careering off on a voyage of discovery over McMordie's cut the day before yesterday. Rats under some planks in the neighborhood of the Annex inspired the dogs to tremendous exertions, and in the scurry and helter skelter, poor Romeo, who is not as young as he once was, got his leg twisted badly between the planks. It was broken above the joint. He was found in distress below the Annex, and taken home where the leg was carefully set, and put in plaster of paris. Romeo is able to hobble round, and wears a philosophic expression, but the weight and stiffness of his bandaged limb clearly puzzle him. Pain he can understand, but not plaster of paris.

G.T.P. WILL BUY IN CANADA

President Hays and Mr. Chamberlin Both Emphatic on this Point. G. McNichol and the Lumber Contract.

"The fixed and settled policy of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is to buy all its supplies in Canada from Canadians. If an order is given in the United States it will be found to be due to exceptional circumstances. In the matter of patronizing Canadian industry we are not one whit less patriotic than the Canadian Pacific Railway."

This was the statement of Mr. C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, when shown in Vancouver a statement that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway had recently unduly discriminated against Canadian sawmills by awarding a state of Washington mill an order for 8,000,000 feet of lumber for the Pacific division.

"I never heard of the recent award to an American lumber company," added Mr. Hays, turning to Mr. E. J. Chamberlin, the general manager.

"Oh, I think that must be the lumber for the snowsheds on the first division," replied Mr. Chamberlin.

"Some time ago I instructed Mr. McNichol, superintendent at Prince Rupert, to ask for bids for a supply for that purpose. If he placed the order across the line it must have been on account of the much more favorable price quoted."

"Our policy is to buy everything we can in Canada and I am certain that ninety-nine per cent of our purchases are so made and the money expended with Canadian firms. Vancouver merchants ought to realize this and of course they do."

"Mr. Chamberlin is right. Where ever possible we will continue to favor Canadian business men in placing orders," added the president.
