The Power of Thought

(By Very Rev. J. B. Gibson, Dean of St. Andrew's Cathedral)

Thousands of years ago the writer of the Book of Proverbs taught the greatness of the place and power of thought in one's life. He said that "as a man thinketh in his heart so is he," and today people are just beginning to realize the truth of the teaching.

Thinking is the fountain of all actions. As we think so we live, and act, and judge. The thought marks out the track along which our actions run. Everything that has been accomplished in the world has originated in someone's brain.

Thought determines action. Therefore vague thoughts result in unsatisfactory and indefinite actions and wrong and sinful thoughts result in wrong and sinful actions. Christ-like actions are the inevitable product of pure and holy thoughts. If our thoughts are out of order our lives will be out of order. This truth is illustrated in the power of mind over body. A very interesting little parable tells of an Eastern pilgrim who one day meets "The Plague" and asks "Where are you going?" The answer comes "I am going to Bagdad to kill five thousand people." A few days later the same pilgrim meets "The Plague" returning and the conversation is re-opened. "You told me," said the pilgrim, "you were going to Bagdad to kill five thousand people, but instead you have killed fifty thousand." "No," said "The Plague," "I killed only five thousand as I said I would. The others died of fright." Which parable reminds one of the large number of people to-day who imagine they are ill when they are not.

Thought also has a wonderful power in determining character. As a man thinketh in his heart so will he become in character. Character springs from habit—and habit is being formed every moment of our life. Character is what we really are—as distinct from what people think we are. What people think we are we call reputation and reputation may collapse in a minute. A strong character, which is the outcome of a long series of noble thoughts, is not easily overcome but no one can afford to be off his guard. Unless continual care is taken there comes "the little rift within the lute, that by and by will make the music mute." Thus we can see that our thoughts may be either our friends or our enemies, and they are "Our glory or shame, our happiness or misery, our solace or destruction—summed up. They are the Alpha and Omega of life."

It is helpful to remember that we cannot possibly think of two different things at one and the same time. Our minds have not the power to contain two different thoughts at any given moment. Therefore, if we are thinking of that which is good and pure and lovely, there is no room for thoughts of evil. If we think of Jesus Christ when temptation comes the impure thoughts will be supplanted by the pure. The call to duty bidding us live and act in accordance with the highest and best, we know, may not always find us ready to respond but, when it comes to us in the person of Jesus Christ, there is a world of difference. The thought of Jesus Christ as our Redeemer and our Friend, as the One who has the deepest interest in our life, effectually checks the wayward thought and we realize what is meant by "the expulsive power of a new affection."

Old Age Pensions And Hospital Fees

Hospital Association Informs Local Board As To What May Be Done To Collect From Recipients

Regarding the attachment of old age pensions in payment for hospital fees, a communication from the British Columbia Hospitals' Association, read at last night's meeting of the local hospital board, informed the board that recipients of old age pensions must be paid in person except in cases where they were of unsound mind or otherwise incapacitated in which case the money went to trustees. The checks, however, might be sent out in care of hospitals, in cases where pensioners were hospital inmates, and the hospital officials would thus have the opportunity of attempting to induce them to pay their hospital accounts. The pensioners were meant for the maintenance of recipients whether they were in hospital or not. Hospital authorities could question patients whom they thought might receive pensions as to whether they were pensioners and information could be obtained from the pension board office.

The hospital board was informed that the managing secretary was keeping in touch with this matter.

TAKING UP CIVIL WORK

until September of an action in which James Arsenau is suing W. H. Tobey and Roy Sommers, as president and secretary respectively of the Canadian National Recreation Association, for $5000 damages as a result of having broken his shoulder a year ago last winter while skating on the C. N. R. A. rink in the local railway yards. T. W. Brown, for the defendants, had applied that the case be struck off the list for lack of prosecution but R. L. McLennan, for the plaintiff, opposed this, the order being refused and plaintiff being put on terms to bring on the action in September. Dr. J. H. Carson, being away from the city, the plaintiff claimed he was unable to proceed.

Two divorce petitions were also granted earlier in the Assize.

SOFTBALL PLAY-OFFS

Several Extra Innings Required Before Grants Defeated Cardinals

In the first of the High School Boys' Softball League knockout series, the Grants blasted their way yesterday afternoon into a 2-0 victory over the Cardinals. The Cardinals, after a disastrous first inning, settled down and tied the score at 9-all in the fifth inning and sent the game to an extra inning. However, the Giants bunched enough hits to score three runs in the ninth inning before they were retired.

Although this contest was not of the best calibre, the extra-inning proved to be thrilling. Numerous errors were made by both teams in the earlier part of the game but, as the game progressed, only a few were made. Tobey was in good form and hit a homer in the third frame. Nakamoto and Gillis were the big guns for the Cardinals.

Batteries: Giants—Kishimoto and Lindsay. Cardinals—Postula, Allan and Hirano. Umpire—Bill Tobey. Base Umpire—Bob Moxley. Score Keeper—Joe Naylor.

CROPS IN PROVINCES

In Alberta

All points along the Drumheller-Oyen-Three Hills-Stettler-Red Deer subdivisions in Alberta report rains have delayed seeding but have put summer fallow and stubble land in good condition. Varying percentages of wheat have been seeded but work with coarse grains has not started. At these points the lateness of the season may result in a small decrease in acreage.

In Central Alberta and in the Edmonton territory rains have been general, followed by cool, blustery weather and all points report warm weather would be beneficial.

From the Peace River territory come reports that work on the land has been considerably delayed by rain. Weather is now fine and seeding should be general in a few days.

Cattle Prices

Cattle prices at the beginning of the week held in line with the close of the previous week. Since then most grades have displayed a slightly weaker undertone, with prices easing from 15 cents to 25 cents per hundred. The only strong spot is the stocker and feeder division where supplies are light, and some eastern orders are going unfilled.

In the hog section prospects are somewhat unsettled but there is more likelihood of a rise in price than any decline.

House Committee Reports on Work Around Hospital

Reporting for the house committee at last night's regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, Robert Gordon stated that installation of a special baby's bath in the nursery had been completed, that the new brass coil for hot water heating had been placed in the central furnace and was functioning with satisfaction and that renewals had been made in the piping of the Nurses' Home domestic water supply.

The committee was authorized to proceed with kalsomining and plaster patching in the Nurses' Home as well as the varnishing of floors. Removal of moss from the roof of the Nurses' Home was also ordered.

Mention was made of the necessity of having the Nurses' Home painted but it was felt that finances would hardly permit of this work, roughly estimated to cost $175, being done this year although the roof may be painted later, it being estimated that this would cost about $40.
