UNBALANCED BUDGET

This week we gave readers of this paper a complete report of the budget of the minister of finance, Hon. J. W. Jones, the only local paper to do so. It made interesting TROPHIES reading for those who are students of political history or even for those who like to know how the affairs of the province are being conducted.

The feature of the budget was that it did not balance. It is odd that it should be the first unbalanced budget since Winners Badminton Finals Will the days when W. J. Bowser was premier. Because he failed to grapple successfully with the financial situation the people of that day turned Mr. Bowser out of office and clusion of the games in the city called upon the Liberals to take charge.

Mr. Jones' budget lacks over two million dollars of balancing and even to maintain the position outlined in the budget it is suggested that the municipalities further cur- is a keeness about the badminton tail their expenditures and that it was likely unemploy- games this season that has never! ment relief would be still further reduced. THE SALMON REGULATIONS.

There is still a controversy raging in regard to the new regulations issued by the Dominion Fisheries Department in connection with the inspection and grading of canned for and won by the successful consalmon. It is claimed that the regulation is drawn in such a way that all the inspecting has to be done in Vancouver. While some rail shipments may be examined by inspectors it is only at great inconveniences and expense.

In view of the fact that Prince Rupert is the centre for for men's doubles. the largest salmon fisheries in Canada, it would seem to be the logical location for an inspector and it should be re- singles. quired that all the fish caught in this district should be inspected in this district. We protest once more against crews of men being sent into the Skeena district from Vancouver, against their being provisioned from Vancou-Vancouver, against their being provisioned from Vancouver, against their being provisioned from Vancouver. SWIMING whole crew and catch being sent back to Vancouver. Wehave had enough of that sort of thing in the past and we should make a strong fight to get the salmon fisheries centred at Prince Rupert where they belong.
