NOBODY'S BACK YARD

The display of irritability shown by Premier Tolmie in the Legislature last week was a sign of weakness and may possibly be attributable to his recent illness and the feeling that the ground is breaking away from him all around, prior to his sinking into political oblivion. To ask a man! to join in a reorganized union government and then because he refuses to insinuate that he is no good and that it was only because of the position he held that he was asked, was decidedly puerile. It was like a child inviting a friend to play in his back yard and then because he refuses telling him he is no good.

Pattullo refused to play in the Tolmie back yard and we are inclined to think his constituents in Prince Rupert will agree that he was right. The general opinion here is that he does not have to play in anybody's back yard. He is a big enough man to have his own yard where the others may come if they wish.

GATHERING IMPETUS

The depression has been a breathing time when very little work was done that could in any way be put off until a more convenient season. In this district houses and stores have been neglected to a certain extent. Wharves have been allowed to go the limit without repiling. Interior de-BADMINTON corations have been delayed, outhouses have gone into dis-BADMINTON repair, cars have been wearing out and roofs have been patched instead of renewed. People's clothes have been worn to shreds, boots have been allowed to run down at heel, dentistry and doctoring have been delayed. Putting Enjoyable Affair Held Saturday off these necessary things is like damming a stream. The time will come when the dam gives way and the flood of prosperity is loosed once more in the land. As soon as the improvement gets under way there will be more work for the unemployed, the merchants will be busy, real estate successful winter season, an enjoypeople will sell property and insurance, people will invest in stocks and bonds, painters and decorators, furniture dealers, upholsterers will work overtime; new offices will westview, for members of the be opened and the empty buildings will be filled and demand will come for others. Men will go to the logging camps to provide logs for the mills to cut for the carpenters to use and the painters to paint. Plumbers and fitters and furnace men will add to the earning impetus and almost before we know it the land will be prosperous once

This is no fancy picture. It is a picture based on experience. It is what has happened dozens of times before and will happen again. The country is ready for the new start but it takes a Roosevelt or some other progressive statesman to give it the push necessary to start things going. Four years of holding back has made the country ready for a move forward.

World's Middleweight Champion

Sharpshooters in Hockey Struggle

Newmarket and Suchury Cubs were tied at one game apiece in their stirring three-game series for the junior hockey supremacy of all-Ontario on March 20. Blazing a brilliant comeback trail the gallant little Redmen from the North York town, scored a sensational 2 to 1 victory over their rugged silver-belt rivals at Maple Leaf Gardens in the second game to force the series into three games in order to decide a winner. The above layout shows the successful marksmen in the second game. (1) Frank Huggins, who returned to the wars after being out with an injured back and turned in a star effort. Frank scored the tying goal, after some brilliant playing which gave Markies new life in their bitter battle. (2) Adelard La France, shifty left winger of the Cubs, who scored the first goal of the game on a brilliant solo effort. (3) Pep Kelly, fast skating winger, who notched the winning goal for the North Yorkers.
