DAILY EDITION

AN EXCELLENT BOOK

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics, under authority of Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, has published the Canada Year Book for 1933, an excellent publication full from cover to cover with information about this wonderful country in which we live. There is hardly any phase of Canadian life, activity or natural, wealth that is not dealt with. As an up-to-the-minute encyclopedia of information about Canada, the book is extremely valuable.

ability to compete with all-comers is afforded in the astonishing results obtained in tobacco culture. Springing from the soil of this province, a young army of tobacco plants rears dustrial life of the province. In the Sumas Valley, the Totem Tobacco Plantation, now in process of harvesting, is a sight to behold. Consisting of Virginia flue-cured tobacco, it is pronounced the best in Canada by no other authority than Inspector Mac-Rae of the Experimental Farm, Tobacco Division, Ottawa. Totem Tobacco is a high-grade product, expertly blended. A trial of this British Columbia product will convince the most confirmed skeptic that it equals, if not excels, anything from eastern tobacco-growing areas. Tobacco producing is 100% labor. To give this local product a fair trial is to make a direct contribution to the economic welfare of the province. Totem tobacco wrappers have a cash value, redeemable in any quantity at 634 Howe street, Vancouver, B.C.

Is it unreasonable I am loathe to risk my remaining garments? Or should the chance of spending three years on Doukhobor Island be accepted as possibly the best way out

Editor, Daily News:-

I notice that in your issue of September 13 you state that I am contesting the forthcoming election as a Conservative candidate.

I wish to inform you that you have been either misinformed or misunderstand the issue as far as I am concerned, in the approaching contest.

It is a fact, that two years ago I was nominated as the Conservative candidate in Skeena riding. Since then, the executive of the B. C. Conservative Association decided that the Conservatives of B. would not, as an organization, take any part as a body in the forthcoming election. I was therefore, automatically released as the Conservative candidate and am now at liberty, if I decide, to enter the contest, to support those principles which I consider will be in the best interests of the province in general and the Skeena riding in particu- Reserved seats $1.25. Booth Loser in Closely Contested Match Saturday Afternoon

The Junior Football League started another season's activities on Saturday last when Borden Street School won from Booth Memorial in a closely contested game by one goal to nil. Both teams had changes from last year. Borden having four new players and Booth nine.

Play was even with Husoy dangerous for Booth. Dybhavn cleared. Monkley was nearly through but Krause saved splendidly. Booth forced three corners but they were cleared. Cameron was through but shot straight at Postok when he should have scored. Bremner tried to clear a harmless shot but turned it past his goalkeeper to give Borden the lead. Play became faster but no goals came.

Booth now had the lead and pressed more steadily but Borden nade dangerous break-aways. Postok cleared well from Husoy and nearly through. Dybhavn played vell and O'Neill and Mah defended uccessfully. Currie and Barton safe. Postok was called on twice in succession but managed to keep his Wages I have earned during the goal clear and Borden won a hardly contested game by one goal to nil. Borden - Postok: Williscroft,

• TESTED RECIPES OF TEMPTING

Using up the left-overs is a real means of economizing on the food budget. Here's a recipe for a truly delectable left-over dish, easy to prepare and very economical. Costs about 10c a serving 50c for a family of five.

Cut slices of cold meat 1 inch thick, then mix 2 level teaspoons Colman's Mustard, 4 teaspoons olive oil, 2 teaspoons vinegar, cayenne to taste. Score the meat slices and spread the mixture in the incisions. Broil over a hot fire. Place on heated platter and season with salt, pepper and butter. Serve it very hot.

Delicious! Surprise Grill will be a credit to your cooking ingenuity, the kind of dish your family will ask you to prepare again and again, But in the interest of fine flavour and real success don't forget the 2 teaspoons of Colman's Mustard.
