PRINCE RUPERT HONORS CROWNING OF THE KING

ALL LONDON IS WAITING FOR THE CORONATION

Enormous Prices are Being Paid for Seats to View the Wonderful Pageant---His Majesty Received the Colonial Premiers at Buckingham Palace This Morning---Description of the Great Events of Tomorrow

(Colonial Press Despatch)
London, June 21.—All is now ready for the great Coronation which takes place tomorrow at Westminster Abbey. The full programme has already been rehearsed and London is now all agog to see their Majesties pass in the great procession tomorrow.

London is Crowded
London is crowded with visitors from every country and climate. The hotel accommodation is exhausted, and enormously high prices are being paid for flats and top-windows overlooking the route of the procession.

Thousand Pounds a Day
One flat near Pall Mall overlooking the procession is said to have been rented to an American millionaire for a thousand pounds a day. Single seats in some of the shop windows are bringing from five to thirty-five guineas.

Thirty Thousand Soldiers
There are thirty thousand British regular troops in London today. These, under the command of General Lord Kitchener, will guard the line of march from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Abbey, where the Archbishop of Canterbury will perform the Coronation rite. Within the procession will be the kings and princes, the foreign delegates, the officials, the Household Cavalry and the Colonial detachments.

A Gorgeous Robe
The robes of the participants will be remarkable for their gorgeousness. The King's robe, consists of a mantle, cunningly woven from twenty-seven yards of pure gold tissue, so stiff that it stands alone, and yet so simple that it falls from the shoulders in graceful folds. It is in this robe the King will be arrayed as he sits on the famous Coronation chair, which since the time of Edward the First has served to enthrone his ancestors.

Receives Colonial Premiers
So far as is possible, His Majesty is resting today, in preparation for the celebrations of the remainder of the week. He will receive the Colonial Premiers at the Palace today, his only official reception until after he is crowned.

Guns Will Announce
A Royal salute of forty-one guns in Hyde Park, will announce the moment of the actual Coronation, and as the crowned King of England, his Majesty will then, on his return journey to Buckingham Palace, be able to acknowledge the plaudits of his loyal subjects.

Reception at Nith
There will be no rest after the Coronation. A great reception will be given at night to his guests, the kings and princes of the world, and their representatives. This will be one of the most exclusive functions imaginable. None but monarchs, their children and accredited representatives will be present.

Drive Through London
On the following day, his Majesty in accord with custom will drive through his capital. A great procession will accompany him, while from the Tower of London a salute of sixty-two guns will roar out a welcome. The procession will be one of great magnificence.

Reviews the Navy
Next his Majesty will review the Navy at Spithead. For eighteen miles a triple line of warships, covered with gorgeous bunting will await his inspection. As the Royal yacht passes each battleship, the war vessel will fire a salute of twenty-one guns. Over three thousand guns will be fired before the end of the great sea-line is reached.

A Third Procession
A third procession will be held on the 29th, when their Majesties, the Court, and a Sovereign's escort will visit St. Paul's Cathedral. The route will take in different streets than those covered in the preceding processions, and will end at the Guildhall, where His Majesty will be entertained to luncheon by the Lord Mayor and

Councillors of the City of London. Visit to the Country

During the following months, His Majesty will visit various parts of his Kingdom, before preparing for the ceremonies attending the investiture of his eldest son, Prince Edward, as Prince of Wales. This ceremony which will take place at historic Carnarvon Castle, has not been held since the days of Henry VII. It will be replete with picturesque details, and will give great satisfaction to the Welsh people, who are intensely loyal.

Then the Durbar
Later on, preparations will be made to hold the great Durbar at Delhi, when with Oriental magnificence, His Majesty will receive the homage of the Hindu princes, and be acclaimed Emperor of India.

WATER SPORTS PROGRAMME AND TEN MILE TRACK

Sixth Avenue and McBride Street Centre of Interest for Dominion Day Land Sports---The Big Race---Committee Decides on Course---Boat Races and the Twelve Mile Launch Race---Entries in Shoals

On Dominion Day the big crowds will centre around Sixth avenue and McBride street. This point has been selected by the Land Sports Committee for the races. All the short distance flat races can be run on almost perfectly level ground with plenty of room, on Sixth avenue. At the meeting of the Athletic Committee in the police court room last night excellent reports were given of the rush of entries for the races. Over thirty have already handed in their names for the hundred yards.

The Ten Mile Course
For the ten mile the principal aspirants are known. There may be a dark horse at the last moment. Announcement is now made of the course for this important race. It will be as follows: Starting on Sixth avenue on the south side of McBride street, along

Sixth as far as Hays Cove Circle, round the Circle to Fifth avenue, and along then by McBride street repeating the course to complete the ten miles.

Water Sports Programme
The Water Sports programme was also announced last night. This includes events as follows: Single and Double Skiff races, and Mixed Double Skiff race, Single and Double Canoe races, Mixed Double Canoe race, Crab race.

Launch Race
A twelve mile launch race is also to be held over a triangular course from the waterfront to the Island across the harbor and over to Digby Island where a buoy will be placed, thence back to the harbor. Entries for this race must be in not later than the 28th inst. in order that the launches may be tested over the measured mile for handicaps. No boat must exceed three per cent of her running time.

The Cup which was won last year by the Ka Yex must be won three years in succession.

Boat Crew Races
Six oar boat crew races will be held. A crew from the Lillooet will compete with a crew of Prince Rupert Longshoremen. This race is open to any other six oar crews caring to enter. The launch race starts at 9.30 a.m. promptly as the whole of the water sports are timed to be over at noon. Captain Musgrave of the Lillooet will act as Commodore assisted by Captain Babington, W. A. Pettigrew and Dr. Tremayne. Entries for the launch race may be made now to Mr. Pettigrew at the Government Land offices.

TELEGRAPH DEVELOPMENT IN THE SKEENA DISTRICT

Stewart Line Will be Completed Before First Snow-fall Comes Down This Fall—New Offices and Extensions Planned Up the Skeena

Just returned from an inspection up river, and into the Naas district, J. T. Phelan, superintendent of the Government telegraphs, has news of rapid progress on the Stewart telegraph line. On Friday night this week construction parties expect to be within fifteen miles of the Naas. Energetic efforts are being made to complete the work quickly.

Heavy Travelling Here
In this district the work is retarded considerably by the heavy snow of the trails. Not only is the timber growth thick and construction work through it necessarily slower, but owing to the presence of deep ravines, creeks, and canyons which have to be bridged to carry the line across, the work is retarded in spite of strenuous effort.

Alice Arm Gang
The other gang working started on Alice Arm, and is progressing in the head of that inlet over Naas. There will be a telegraph line into Goose Bay by the end of the fall.

Reports from the men in charge of the gangs state that there is a good deal of snow to be encountered on the line of construction. Over five feet of snow reported from the summits of the Alice Arm gang.

intendent Phelan has made preliminary investigations for further developments in this direction.

Metlakatla or Bust
The Baptist Brotherhood will run that excursion to the beach beyond Metlakatla tomorrow. Ball games! Races! Swings! A good time! Boats leave G. T. P. slip at 1 p.m., 3 p.m., and 6.30 p.m. sharp.

London, June 21.—Amongst the many interesting visitors is one of the most powerful of East Indian potentates in the person of her Highness the Begum of Bhopal, who arrived a short time ago in England to present her fealty to the Emperor of India, King George of England.

Her Highness brought a large retinue, including a native doctor, several cooks, and an astrologer. The Princess (who is a reigning Sovereign) wore a beautiful white silken robe and long veil over her face. A special train was brought to the pier, and her landing was from a gangway which immediately faced the door of the saloon carriage.

WILL RUSH THE WORK ON THE RAILWAY

Tug Boat and Barges Laden With Steel for the Big Bridge Across the Skeena—Million and a Half Feet of Lumber for Snow Sheds is Due Tonight—Fourteen Freight Cars Laden With Lumber for Stations are on the Way

This morning a tug boat arrived with barges in tow bringing 400 tons of steel for the Skeena River bridge, which after the Kitselas tunnels is the next great undertaking on the G. T. P. between here and Hazelton. The bridge steel is to be ready in advance of the immediate need for it so that there will be no delay at all in the construction of the bridge.

Lumber for Snow Sheds
Tonight General Superintendent Mehan expects another tug will arrive bringing scows of lumber for snow sheds between here and the end of steel. A million and a quarter feet of lumber will be landed this week for these snow sheds, and work upon them is being rushed ahead rapidly.

More Rolling Stock
Either at the end of this week or early next week a third arrival of important railway material is expected when the G. T. P. Company's own barge for rolling stock will come in bringing fourteen cars loaded with lumber for stations now being constructed up the line. The cars will be run on to rails ready for instant transfer to the destination of the lumber at points along the line.

TWO AND A HALF MILLION DOLLARS FOR HIDDEN CREEK

Development of Prince Rupert's Nearest Great Mining Property to be on Grand Scale—Smelter Will be at Mine—Great Activity at Goose Bay

Undoubtedly the development of the Hidden Creek Mines in the Goose Bay district is going to be one of the biggest things done in mining development in the nearer Prince Rupert neighborhood this season. It is not very likely that a smelter will be established at Prince Rupert, but it is an absolute certainty that very large sums of money are to be laid out by the Granby Consolidated Mines Company on the Hidden Creek property.

Two and a Half Million
From unmistakable signs those who have seen the work already in progress there, can predict that development on the largest possible scale is begun, and will go forward without hindrance. It is also known beyond doubt that the Granby Consolidated Co. are prepared to spend upwards of two and a half million dollars on the work right at the mines, and Goose Bay where shipments of either ore or smelter product will be made.

Unlimited Ore in Sight
Diamond drilling in various directions throughout the property has invariably resulted in the bringing to light of cores of solid ore extending deep down through the mountain. In almost every direction tested good commercial showings are revealed. It would seem that without exaggeration the Hidden Creek property is almost a solid mountain of the entirely profitable low grade copper ore such as the Granby Company handle at Grand Forks and Phoenix

Smelter Probably at Mine
It was necessary for the Granby Company to extend their enterprise by the acquisition of a large producer of ore such as they handle profitably and the Hidden Creek mine seems to answer the description. Most likely the smelter will be established at the mine, and the product shipped from Goose

Bay. While the expenditure of two million and a half dollars in Prince Rupert would mean much to the city, there are many here who would just as soon not see Prince Rupert a smelter city, owing to the smoky atmosphere inevitably associated with this class of wealth production.

WILL BUILD A NEW CHINATOWN

Vancouver's Chinks Decide to Remove to Permanent Headquarters on Albert Street.

Vancouver, June 21.—Present-day Chinatown in Vancouver will shortly be no more, for it has been decided that the residents are to move, a definite announcement being made yesterday at a general meeting that the new colony of the Celestials be located on Albert street, between Woodland and Park Drives.

Inculcated with western progressiveness the wise men of the east will establish a district on improved lines and will build up a small city of their own, which will be far more their domain than the one shortly to be vacated. In conformity with their desire to compete in the industrial and commercial pursuits of the Occident, the Chinese will erect a quarter which for general effect, it is contended, will vie with any other business section in Vancouver.

Albert street will be solely reserved for the Chinese.

The Mah Hong and Dr. Lewd case of procuring, has been remanded until Friday.

Nick Gurvich summoned for careless blasting on Seventh street, has had his case remanded also on request of Mr. Williams.
