Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.

Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.

Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

WHIFFLETS
From the Waterfront

Bringing with him the rearguard of the cannery crew, other members of which have been arriving during the past week from the south, R. G. (Bob) Johnston, veteran Skeena River cannerryman and manager of Inverness cannery, is due to arrive on the Skeena from Victoria on Saturday aboard the steamer Venture. He is coming north via Rivers Inlet where he also has cannery interests. Yesterday seven members of the Inverness crew arrived on the steamer Prince Rupert from the south including H. W. Chambers, accountant, and Capt. Norman Brodhurst, skipper of the tender Brodhurst, all going out to Inverness during the day.

To make a final attempt at the difficult job of salvaging Capt. Tony Martinusen's big halibut boat Livingstone II, which stranded and sank three weeks ago in thirty fathoms of water off the west coast of Dundas Island, Capt. W. P. Armour left again for the scene of the wreck at 1:30 this morning. If something is not accomplished within the next few days, it is probable that the job will be abandoned for the time being at least. Considerable gear has already been lost on account of the turbulent seas in the salvage attempt.

Thomas Anderson of Vancouver, production manager of the CeePee-Cee Packing Co., is leaving on the Prince Rupert tonight on his return trip to Vancouver. Mr. Anderson has been negotiating with P. M. Ray, trustee, and local creditors with the view to taking over for operation the Rupert Marine Products plant at Tucks Inlet. It is possible that a definite announcement will be made some time this month as to the result of the negotiations.
