Irene Dunne in Her Newest Film

"The Secret of Madame Blanche" is Story of Young American Chorus Girl

Irene Dunne, who scored an outstanding success in "Cimarron" and "Back Street," makes her latest appearance on the screen in "The Secret of Madame Blanche," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which will be shown at the Capitol tonight and tomorrow.

The picture is said to encompass the life of a woman over a period of thirty years, giving Miss Dunne a role comparable to that played by Helen Hayes in "The Sin of Madelon Claudet." The story starts with Miss Dunne as a young American chorus girl and progresses through her love affair and marriage with a titled Englishman to the tragic results of his suicide.

When her child is taken away from her by a jealous father-in-law, the heroine of "The Secret of Madame Blanche" is subjected to a series of tremendously dramatic interludes until years later she again meets her son. He is involved in a shooting scrape for which she takes the blame, and is about to be sent to prison when a surprise climax gives the story an unexpected turn.

Man in the Moon

Good afternoon. Have you a proper coat of tan?

Some people go to the dressmaker,
And others the tailor visit,
But I enjoy the out of doors,
If it isn't sun tan, what is it?

Barney Mulvaney of Burns Lake wants a woman candidate in the field in Omineca. He says he must be good looking if she is to win. You see, Barney is Irish.

Once again we are hearing about the highway to Alaska.

Would you like to drive north to Alaska?
Well would I? Now tell me, I ask ya;
I'd just sit in my car
Keep going till far
From Rupert in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Jake called in this morning and said he'd been fishing and caught a trout and dared me to write a verse about him.

Jake caught a trout,
The lazy lout,
He should have caught a score.
You'd think that one
Weighed 'bout a ton,
He made me beastly sore.

Ernest Lewis for supplying liquor to Indians was remanded for eight days in the city police court this morning.
