More Stable Price For Silver Planned by Output of Consenting Nations Being Restricted

It would be a mistaken assump ten to believe that the agreement, the only agreement reached at the United States was intervening. World Economic Conference, will mean an increase in the output of silver, says the Victoria Colonist. It Port Simpson will mean the maintenance of a more stable price, but possibly a restriction in the production. The agreeing countries are Canada, the United States, Mexico, Australia, India, China, Spain and Peru. There is to be a restriction of the sales of silver in the world for a period of four years. The contracting parties the equivalent of what is needed to sustain sales at a fair price. The bullion thus purchased will be reserved for conversion into coin.

Silver has been definitely declining in value in recent years. In 1922 the Canadian output was 18,626,000 ounces, valued at $12,576,785. In 1930 the output of 26,000,000 ounces was valued at $10,086,867. The value Continued on page 2
