

WATERFRONT WHIFFS

Lots of Halibut Still Left For Fishermen This Year
—Several Boats on Dry Dock—Dunc Kennedy Takes a Bath

According to official figures of the International Fisheries Commission, a total of 12,406,084 pounds of halibut had been taken up to the end of April this year from the two principal halibut fishing areas of the Pacific Coast for which the total quota allowance for 1933 is 46,000,000 pounds. This year up to the end of April, the Commission announces, 7,146,722 pounds had been taken from Area 2 for which the year's quota allowance is 21,700,000 pounds while Area 3 had been fished to the extent of 5,249,362 pounds out of a quota allowance of 24,300,000 pounds. Fishing, it may be observed from these figures, has been much more intensive so far this year in the nearer Area 2 than in the further Area 3. These figures are inclusive both of American and Canadian fish.

The following preliminary figures covering halibut production in the two areas month by month are given by the Commission as well as the final totals for the same three months in 1932 for comparison:

	1933 Preliminary	Area 2	Area 3	Totals
Pounds	Pounds	Pounds	Pounds	Pounds
Feb.	2,005,110	1,843,003	3,848,113
Mar.	2,043,018	2,226,978	4,269,996

	1932 Final

Piloted by Flight Sergeant M. Costello of Vancouver, one of the two Fairchild seaplanes of the Royal Canadian Air Force, which are engaged in aerial mapping and photography work on the Queen Charlotte Islands, arrived here about 10:30 Tuesday morning of this week from the Islands with Gordon H. Joliffe of Queen Charlotte City on board as a passenger. The plane, with its passenger, left at 11 o'clock Thursday morning on its return to Queen Charlotte City.

Whenever any one around this man's port has the questionable distinction of falling accidentally into the harbor and getting "all wet," it is the signal for the opening of another "raspberry" season. Dunc Kennedy, popular carpenter of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co., is the latest to find this out for great was the mirth among his conferees on Thursday of this week after he had taken the plunge which assured him of a place in the waterfront's "Hall of Fame." It appears that Dunc was working from a scaffolding making repairs underneath one of the company wharves when said scaffolding gave way and down went Dunc like the proverbial Humpty Dumpty although it is not recorded that all the king's horses were needed to pick him up again in addition to the number of men. In any case, they soon got Dunc onto dry land again little the worse for his immersion. Some one, however, was heard to be so unkind as to wonder, in view of the fact that it took him so long to change, if the famous skipper of the Musketeers' cribbage team really had one suit of underwear and had to go to bed while that was being dried out. Despite the joshing that Dunc received from his many friends, he is still in the best of health and spirits.

The Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co.'s fish packers Chief Zibassa and Grier Starrett and the halibut boat Tahama were all taken up on the pontoons at the local dry dock on Thursday of this week for cleaning and painting.

It is understood that the fishermen's community on Digby Island, which has been steadily expanding during the past year or so, has now taken on such proportions as to have made application for the establishment of a public school for its children who now have to make the trip into town daily to receive their education. The necessary application is being forwarded to the authorities, it is reported, and the school is expected to be opened after the summer vacation.

The Letter Box

A PATROL PROTEST

Editor, Daily News:

Being present at Digby Island during the inspection of those boats that submitted their tenders for charter to the Department of Fisheries for patrol service during the coming season, I noticed the boat belonging to the president of the local Conservative Association there also for inspection, no doubt with the thought of putting it on the service.

This, to my way of thinking, should never have been done, and should have been withdrawn in favor of those that are trying to make a living out of their boats, and not drawing down a sure salary, every month, of $250 or so.

Yours for fair play,
Oona River, B.C. H.L.M.

CONCERT AT PT. SIMPSON

Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society Visits Neighboring Village and Gets Good Reception

The Prince Rupert Philharmonic Society's choral party visited the neighboring village of Port Simpson on Wednesday and presented that evening in the United Church there a selected program of miscellaneous numbers from the society's repertoire in its series of concerts in the city during the past winter. There was a large audience and the local singers were given a splendid reception. Sea chanties, of which a number were offered, seemed to be particularly popular. The Junior Symphony Orchestra assisted in the program.

The concert was staged under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Port Simpson General Hospital and for the benefit of that organization. Dr. A. E. Perry presided, the choir was conducted by H. N. Brocklesby and C. P. Balagne was accompanist.

Following the recital, there was a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Perry.

About sixty persons made the trip aboard the Salvage Princess, leaving here at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning and returning at 2:30 the following morning.

William Bacon of the Bacon Fisheries returned to the city on the Princes Adelaide Friday from a business trip to Vancouver.
