"I suppose we mght say we are all being 'fired' on the fifteenth," remarked Ald. Rochester. "For me From Naas River & Port Simpsonit will be the first time to be 'fired' in thirty years." Ald. Rochester had no regrets at having been a member of a council which had not been harmonious at all times. Little disputes, he felt, tended to bring out the best in people who were all the better for them. The chairman of th finance committee recalled the old school day adage: "Be flat, be sharp, but always be natural." Ald. Black Sarcastic

Ald. Black was not content to have the final session end with peace and harmony prevailing. He had a few special remarks reserved for Mayor Stephens and they were not exactly appreciative. "I have never seen the mayor in a more sympathetic mood than he appears to be in tonight," said Ald. Black. "Let me say that as far as some of us on this council have been concerned he has opposed us at every turn. Never has he had a word of sympathy to say for the 960 or so poor people of this city who have been trying and struggling to get nightly schedule. along on relief.
