General Opinion is That Former President Will Return to Power in Free State

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Jan. 18: (Canadian Press)-There is a growing expectation here that the Sumann na Ngaedheal of Former President William Cosgrave will win the general election in the Irish Free State on January 24. It is considered probable, however, that Cosgrave may find his party in the Dail with such a small majority that his position would be most precarious unless he enlisted the co-operation of Independent members of the Central Party, representative of the Farmers' and Ratepayers' League.

Opinion of the Dublin Stock Exchange is definitely turning toward the prospect of a change in government.

Uncertainty Exists Whether Well Known Grocer Killed Self

Two Bullets Found in Head and One in Body-Tragedy Believed to Have Occurred Late Monday Night or Early Tuesday Morning

BULLET ENTERED HEART

The revolver bullet which entered the right side of the body of F. E. Bush, local merchant, who was found dead in the basement of his store on Sixth Street yesterday morning, penetrated deceased's heart, it was revealed today. Police neither confirmed nor denied a report which was current that one of the two bullets entering the head pierced the brain.

In an official statement made last night by the police in connection with the case of Frank E. Bush, well known Prince Rupert grocer, who was found yesterday morning shot to death in his store, it was announced that it was undetermined as yet whether it was a case of suicide. The investigation is proceeding under direction of Staff Sergeant Alex McNeill and an inquest# was formally opened yesterday afternoon before Deputy Coroner A. LOANS HAVE journed for one week after the body had been viewed at the point where it was found. A post-mortem exa-

The body was found between and 8:30 yesterday morning by Henry Smith jr., Bush's delivery man, after opening the store for the day's business. The body was lying on a small cot in the basement of the store. It was fully dressed with two bullet holes in the head! and a third in the body on the right side. Lying beside the body on the cot was found a 32 Winchester sixchamber revolver. There were three discharged shells in the weapon and three of the chambers still contain loaded shells.

Everything seemed to be in order in the place with nothing disturbed to any extent. It was not usual for Bush to stay in the basement of the store for he had an apartment in the Meeker Block.

From general observations, it is believed Bush had been dead since late Monday night or early yester-MACKENZIE day morning. It appeared that the Aird, president of the Canadian bullets had been fired from close Bank of Commerce, at the annual
