

VIEW OF HAZELTON, B.C.

Hazelton is destined to be one of the most important cities in the northern part of British Columbia. It is situated in the midst of a rich agricultural district and is also the hub of the mineral belt. With the coming of spring several mines in the vicinity of Hazelton will be shipping ore from that place.

NEWTON'S PLATFORM.

"A strict enforcement of the law." This is the first plank in Mayor Newton's platform for 1913, as publicly announced yesterday—certainly the ideal policy for the chief magistrate of any city. But why does Mayor Newton feature so prominently what is naturally to be expected from those entrusted with the affairs and government of the city? Does he think he can pull the wool over the eyes of intelligent and wideawake electors by such idle promises?

If his policy for 1913 is in accordance with this plank, why is he not carrying it out during the dying days of the present administration? It is a well known fact that the laws of the province and of the city are being openly violated at the present time, and the law breakers feel perfectly assured that no action will be taken against them during the heat of the municipal campaign. Gambling in various forms is being openly permitted and nothing is done to put a stop to it. If Mayor Newton is honest in regard to his policy, why does he not enforce the law now?

Other excellent planks in his platform will be carried out with the same degree of honesty and efficiency.

STARVING MOTHER AND CHILD GROW DESPERATE

Wanted to Buy Poison to End Sorrows—Cried When She Asked for It

Portland, Ore., Dec. 17.—"Please give me 10 cents' worth of carbolic acid." This was the plea made to several drug clerks by Mrs. Sophia Borusciewski, recently bereft of her husband in a railroad accident and a little baby by the white plague, starving, penniless and friendless.

She could not ask for the poison with which she desired to kill herself and her little boy, with her, without bursting into tears, however, and everywhere she went she was refused.

Although young and strikingly pretty, she could find no one who would give her even a crust after an all day search for food, and weighing in her own mind whether she should spend her last few cents for poison or bread for herself and the crying boy at her side, she finally decided on the poison.

Sobbing pitifully because she was denied the poison at the last place she tried, she was found by a policeman. Loving hands are now caring for both the woman and her boy.

New Westminster, Dec. 17.—Word was received here of a street riot and pitched battle among foreign laborers on the streets of Yale, B. C. An Austrian laborer lies in the hospital with his throat badly gashed as a result and another man has a bullet wound in the arm. The police arrested the man who is alleged to have used the razor. There are a large number of men in Yale from the construction gangs on the C.N.R., and the fight is believed to have been the result of trouble between two factions. The police of endeavoring to gather in all the principals in the affair. The Austrian whose throat is gashed is reported to be in a serious condition.
