Ten Thousand Persons Surged About in Riot Last Night After Which Special Session of Police Commission is Held

TORONTO, Aug. 17: (CP)—Warning that any citizen displaying the swastika in future would be liable to prosecution was issued by Mayor W. J. Stewart today following a special meeting of the police commission which was called after a clash last night between hundreds of infuriated Jewish and gentile youths as a result of a large swastika emblem painted on a white quilt having been displayed on the side of a hill. Ten thousand people surged riotously around. One Jewish youth was hit over the head with a baseball bat and dozens of persons received serious injuries.

COMMISSION SITS HERE

Memoranda Presented to Provincial Probe by City, Chamber of Commerce and Ratepayers' Association

Suggestions Made

Assistance in Connection With Unemployment and Changes in Local Improvement System Are Asked

The royal commission consisting of Judge A. M. Harper of Vancouver, A. D. Paterson of Delta and Herbert Ansbach of Victoria which has been appointed to inquire into financial and other relationships between the provincial government and municipalities of British Columbia, sitting in the Court House here yesterday afternoon, heard representations on behalf of the City of Prince Rupert and the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce as well as from City Solicitor E. F. Jones and adjourned after a session of about an hour's duration. This morning a memorandum was presented to the commission by the Prince Rupert Ratepayers' Association. Members of the commission are sailing this afternoon by the Princess Louise on their return to Vancouver.

After the commission proceedings had been formally opened with brief remarks by the chairman, Judge Harper, and the reading of the terms of the commission by the secretary, W. E. G. Johnson, City Commissioner W. J. Alder presented the following memorandum on behalf of the City of Prince Rupert after first welcoming the commission here and expressing appreciation at its having come so far to hear the local representations:

"The relationship between the provincial government and the City of Prince Rupert is very different to that between the government and all of the larger and older cities in the province.

"At the birth of Prince Rupert the provincial government was the owner of one-fourth of the 11,676 25-foot lots which constitute, with the streets and parks, the townsite of Prince Rupert and today the government is still the owner of 1,640 lots or about one-seventh of all the lots in the city.

"Prior to the incorporation of the city in 1910, the government built some temporary wooden roadways and wooden sewers in the business section at the cost of $77,656.11. After incorporation the government was recompensed by the issue of bonds for the expenditure and this still remains a part of the bonded debt.

"The sales of lots in 1909, 1910 and 1911 brought large sums into the provincial treasury and, out of those funds, the government has spent $400,000 in erection of the Court House and about $200,000 on the six miles of roadway and bridge just outside the city.

"The city has had a heavy task to turn the rock and muskeg into the orderly city as it is today. It has built fifteen miles of hard-surfaced streets, some permanent sewers and a water system sufficient to supply a city of 30,000 people. It has issued bonds for public works amounting to $2,792,576.25 and still has outstanding $1,820,561.29.

"Prince Rupert's great problem is unemployment. There are a considerable number of married men in the city who formerly worked for the city or government on public works. The city has had a heavy task to turn the rock and muskeg into the orderly city as it is today. It has built fifteen miles of hard-surfaced streets, some permanent sewers and a water system sufficient to supply a city of 30,000 people. It has issued bonds for public works amounting to $2,792,576.25 and still has outstanding $1,820,561.29.

"The main secret of the monster, however, is how he learned to read and some idea of the worth of the machine may be gauged from the fact that an offer of £12,000 has been refused by the inventor. Not long ago Eric turned on his inventor and, due to a wrong command being given, raised his arm and fired the pistol point-blank.

The robot is being sent to the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto.

A Brilliant Wedding in Nippon

Lord MacMillan and Gerald McGeer Have Wordy Duel at Probe

Vancouver Lawyer Suggests That British Peer Might Have Received Remuneration—Incident Closes With Mutual Assurance of No Personal Inferences

VANCOUVER, Aug. 17: (CP)—A heated exchange of words which finally ended with mutual assurance that no attacks of a personal nature were intended passed between Lord MacMillan, chairman, and G. G. McGeer K.C. at yesterday's sitting here of the royal commission on banking. "I have never heard such a monstrous suggestion," declared Lord MacMillan when he interpreted a remark of Mr. McGeer's to mean that he might be receiving remuneration after the chairman had stated he had received none. Mr. McGeer later assured the chairman that he had not intended to make any suggestion that His Lordship was serving in any capacity other than one of absolute impartiality.

The royal commission was on its way to Calgary today after a three day sitting in British Columbia, two days here and one in Victoria.

VETERANS' MEETING

Plans for $5,000 Building Improvement Discussed—Convention Reported Upon

At the regular monthly meeting of the Canadian Legion last evening President J. Preece was in the chair and there was a large attendance of members. Discussion centred largely around the plans for the rebuilding of the front part of the premises, arrangements for the legion smoker on the occasion of the visit of H. M. S. Dragon and the report of J. S. Wilson, delegate to the provincial convention recently held in Victoria.

The revised plans for the building call for an expenditure of upwards of $5,000. Ample accommodation will be provided for the Women's Auxiliary, the local branch of which is very active at present and has an ambitious program of work outlined for the future. Provision is also made for a comfortable reading and lounge room for the men so that the Prince Rupert branch will have a building that will compare very favorably with any other in a city of similar size.

The smoker which will provide one of the big items of entertainment for the visiting warship will be open to all the ship's company and members of the Legion. A reply from Captain Wake-Walker thanked the local branch for its cordial welcome and stated his intention of being present. It is planned to have a billiard tournament also while the ship is in port.

SALVAGING OF ENGINE

Motor of Wrecked Junkers Seaplane to be Brought Out From McConnell Creek to Stewart

Arrangements have been made for a Canadian Airways seaplane to fly in from Stewart to McConnell Creek this week with Air Engineer Fred Staines to salvage, on behalf of insurance interests, the engine of Col. Victor Spencer's Junkers seaplane City of Prince George, which was wrecked in a recent crash while taking off from McConnell Creek. The flying time from Stewart to McConnell Creek is about an hour and a half.

Air Engineer Staines, who was in the Spencer plane at the time of the crash, passed through here last week, accompanied by an insurance official, bound from Vancouver to Stewart.

TIES BEING TAKEN OUT

Another Sign of Impending Industrial Revival For Central Interior

BURNS LAKE, Aug. 17:—Another omen of impending industrial revival for the central interior at some not far distant date is the fact that orders have been given by the Canadian National Railways to deliver to the railway line over-cut of ties which have been produced during the past year or so. In this district some thirty thousand such ties are now being brought out, having been hewn mostly by the settlers.

It is necessary that these ties should be absorbed before orders for new cutting can be given.

Plain words make the most ornamental sentences.

JAMAICA FLOODS

Seventy Persons Killed and Damage of $2,000,000 Done in Island of West Indies

KINGSTON, Jamaica, August 17 (Canadian Press)—Seventy persons were drowned yesterday in floods which struck this city and the parishes of St. Thomas, St. Catherine's and St. Mary following a storm which was accompanied by lightning and high wind.

The damage is estimated at $2,000,000. Bridges and buildings were swept away and banana plantations levelled.

The storm, which lasted for six hours, was described as the worst in eighty years.
