DRAMA OF

"Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing" Opens at Capitol

The human side of prison life, with its laughter and tears, its romance, its thrills and its grim tragedies is painted in vivid and dramate coloring in the picture "Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing," which is coming this week-end to the Capitol Theatre.

This screen drama was taken from the book by Lewis E. Lawes, Warden of Sing Sing prison. It is a document of facts and truth which are said to be stranger and more fascinating than fiction.

The story deals with the life of a "big shot" gunman who, when finally convicted, believes he can rule the prison as he ruled his political gang. His personal attachment for the warden becomes so strong that he voluntarily returns to the prison and the chair when on parole, rather than let the warden down. a prison riot, there is a glowing un- people.—G. K. Chesterton.

for today's low prices on Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon. "Ovenized." Ask for it by name.

Serve this finer ham

Across thousands of Easter dinner tables this weekend will pass flattering comments on the delicate new goodness of that famous old dish-Swift's Premium Ham. And it won't simply be complimenting the hostess . . . because the exclusive new Swift method called "Ovenizing" has made Premium better in four remarkable ways: The flavour is finer . . . a matchless blend of "tang" and "mildness". It is much more tender, yet firmer at the same time. Richer colour, too. Every home can enjoy Swift's Premium at today's economical prices. Order promptly from

But be sure you get the genuine Swift's Premium . . . with the name Swift repeated down the length of the ham. Remember, only Swift's Premium Ham is
