STIRRING THE COMMUNITY

The city of Prince Rupert is being stirred by the action of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its campaign to urge people to buy at home instead of sending their money away to the mail order houses.

There are in Prince Rupert a number of merchants who keep an up to the minute stock of goods and who sell at prices which compare favorably with those in all the large cities from Winnipeg west. They give good service and take a good deal of trouble to try to give customers just what they need. These merchants are worthy of support. That is one aspect of the case.

There are in Prince Rupert a number of salaried people who have no particular interest in Prince Rupert except to draw their salaries. The argument that buying at home will make the city prosperous does not appeal to them. They say they have nothing to gain by buying at home and they can get a little advantage sometimes by ordering from a mail order house. They see no reason why they should buy here.

There then is the problem with which the Junior Chamber has to deal. Can they meet the argument of the unattached-salaried person? It is their turn to speak.

Pretty Wedding Here Last Week

Nuptials of Miss Mary Mazzei and Spiro Gurvich Thursday Afternoon

A very pretty wedding was solemnized last Thursday afternoon at 4:30 at St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, Rev. J. B. Gibson officiating, when Miss Mary Mazzei became the bride of Spiro Gurvich. The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Pat Mazzei, looked lovely in a gown of mauve net over taffeta fashioned on long princess lines with hat, gloves and shoes to match. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Ermie Zarelli, was most becomingly attired in a gown of blue taffeta, also fashioned on princess lines with hat to match. Her bouquet consisted of Laddie carnations and maidenhair fern. The groom was attended by William Schreiber.

After the wedding ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's mother where many friends gathered to offer the felicitations to the happy couple. The bride's table was centred with a four-tier wedding cake which was cut by the bride and was surrounded by four silver sconces holding carnations. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Schreiber and was suitably responded to by the groom. There were numerous beautiful wedding gifts which testified to the popularity of the bride and groom. They will take up their residence in the city.

Ella Steen and her stars are pitted against the High School girls. The students should come through as they are about due for a win. Merchants and Warriors battle in the intermediate division. Trojans and Scouts, with Viereck back in the line-up, provide the junior opener.
