Positively PRETTY Now

A "blood test" was the means of this pale, run-down, underweight girl finding new strength, vigor and beauty. She was one of several below-par patients who recently went to a reputable physician in search of a treatment that would build up their impoverished blood streams.

The physician's test showed that this particular young woman's blood was deficient in haemoglobin and red corpuscles. This meant that there was not sufficient vitalizing oxygen being carried through her blood stream to build up body cells and clear the system of poisons. As a result she felt tired out, run-down, and distressingly weak. Knowing the value and safety of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a treatment for increasing haemoglobin, the physician instructed the patient to take this remedy and to return in a month's time for another blood test.

She did so—and the physician found that her haemoglobin was now practically normal and her blood count actually above normal. Her weight was up and her color improved. As the doctor expressed it: "Her face had rounded out and she was positively pretty." In other cases blood tests have proved the efficiency of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in building up haemoglobin and thereby restoring pep, vigor and strength to adults, young girls and weak children. Take no chances—try this "blood-tested" preparation at drug stores—50 cents a package.
