MATTERN IS FOUND SAFE IN SIBERIA

NEW PROGRAM FOR CONFERENCE IS PROPOSED BY STATES

World Flyer, Missing For Over Three Weeks, Was Forced Down At Isolated Outpost of Anadir

Effort Being Made to Organize Relief Expedition Here Today to Bring Aviator Out to Civilization

ORDERED TO SIBERIA

NEW YORK, July 7: (Canadian Press)—The Mattern rescue expedition, which is at present being held at Terrace, B.C. on account of unfavorable weather conditions, was this afternoon sent instructions by its backers here to proceed at once to Anadir, Siberia, to pick Mattern up and bring him out.

Advices were received in Prince Rupert this morning that Capt. James J. Mattern, young Texas flyer, who had been missing since June 14 when he took off from Khabarovsk, Siberia, for Nome, Alaska, in his Lockheed-Vega airplane in the course of an attempted flight around the world, had been found safe at Anadir, Chukotka, a lonely outpost on the isolated northeast coast of Siberia whence he had, apparently, owing to lack of communications, been unable up to this time to make contact with the outside world to tell of his safey. Through medium of Canadian Press contacts efforts were being made here today to form an expedition which might go to Anadir by air to pick up Mattern and bring him out.

A request was conveyed to the Canadian Press representative of the Prince Rupert Daily News from William Alexander, pilot of the Mattern relief expedition, which is now at Terrace, to get in touch with the Boeing yacht Taconite, which has been cruising in local waters and have the flying boat, which is being used by the yachting party with Clayton L. Scott as pilot, come in to Prince Rupert and take members of the Alexander party north to Nome to get Mattern and bring him home. Efforts were also being made from Seattle and elsewhere along the coast to contact the Taconite with the object of securing the services of the Boeing flying boat which was last here Wednesday afternoon when she came in to refuel.

The Alexander relief plane was intercepted by provincial police at Terrace early this morning and thus received its first advice of Mattern's safety with the suggestion that it defer its departure for the north until it received further instructions. It had been thought that Alexander and his companions might hop off for Fairbanks today.

Message Was Terse

The message telling of Mattern's safety was a very brief one, merely stating that he was safe at Anadir on Chukotka Peninsula, off Northeastern Siberia. A telegraphic message received at Moscow direct from Mattern himself gave the outsied world first intimation of the world flyer's safety. No other particulars were known.

Telegraphic dispatches received this afternoon stated that the United States coastguard cutter Northland was 300 miles from Anadir, Siberia, yesterday searching for Mattern and was expected by coastguard officials to get in touch with him at Anadir. The Northland has been searching ever since Mattern was lost.

Word has been received that Bobby Parsons, a pupil of Miss Morgaret McCaffery, passed his introductory examination of the Toronto Conservatory of Music with honors.

NORTHERLY CROP GOOD

Recent Rains Improve Prospects in Central and Southern Areas

Harvest August 1

WINNIPEG, July 7:—The northerly grain growing areas of the prairie provinces are continuing to show excellent crop conditions, according to the weekly crop report of the department of agriculture, Canadian National Railways. Recent rains have improved crop prospects in the central and southern areas although these may be too late to entirely counteract earlier drought damage. Local hail and grasshopper damage is noted but, in the aggregate, conditions are good along our lines.

In Manitoba

In the Portage and Brandon divisions of Manitoba, the good rains received since the last report have much improved crop conditions. Grasshoppers have caused some damage. In the Carman subdivision, cutting is expected to start around August 1 under present weather conditions.

From the Dauphin division come reports that from 30% to 50% of wheat is headed out and showing a stand of from 18 to 22 inches. All course grains are looking excellent.

Saskatchewan Conditions

The Lampman, Riverhurst, Qu-Appelle and Central Butte subdivisions in Saskatchewan have experienced good weather during the past week but considerable damage is reported from grasshoppers and some hail damage is noted. More moisture is needed.

In the Prince Albert division, the most northerly crop producing area in Saskatchewan, prospects are generally good and growth has been rapid. Some hail damage is reported from the Paddockwood subdivision and more rains are needed.

Warm In Alberta

In Central Alberta, the weather for the period under review has been mostly warm and cloudy with several scattered showers which have been very beneficial to the late sown grains. Wheat averages about ten inches and is in shot blade. Some crops are being ploughed under but, it is expected 60 to 80% of a normal crop will be harvested.

The Edmonton division reports all grains in need of more moisture but no damage from hail or pests.

In the Peace River territory weather has been mostly cool and showery. Crops are in good condition, there is plenty of moisture, but more warm weather would be beneficial.

There is very little change in the cattle market this week. There has been a fair sprinkling of dry fed cattle among receipts, meeting a ready outlet at prices well in line with the previous week. The stocker and feeder trade is bad. The hog prospects are still unsettled.
