WHY ROMANCE PASSED HER BY . . by ALBERT DORNE

DON'T RISK "B.O."

THE merest hint of "B.O."—body odour—ruins a girl's charm, a man's attractiveness. It's so easy to be guilty and not know it, because we quickly get used to an ever-present odour. Play safe! Wash and bathe always with Lifebuoy for extra protection. Its searching lather deodorizes pores—ends "B.O." danger. Its pleasant, hygienic scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies.

Try this "facial"

Every night, massage Lifebuoy's creamy lather into the skin. Then rinse. Your complexion will freshen and glow with healthy beauty.

NEW AIR SERVICE

Pan American to Operate From Halifax to Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'E, Nfld., May 2: (Canadian Press)—Pan American Airways, operating in 30 countries of the world, will extend their service to Newfoundland this summer with flights from Halifax to St. John's.

According to present plans of the company, this will be one leg of a trans-Atlantic route mapped for 1934, when a co-operative scheme will be worked out with Imperial Airways Limited of London, England.

Test flights will be made from Halifax to St. John's as soon as the weather permits. At the forthcoming session of the Newfoundland legislature the company will ask for charter authorizing them to follow a regular schedule for passengers, freight and mails. The company already has established a service for passengers between Boston and Halifax.

Last April F. F. Winslow of the Pan American Airways was in St. John's and addressed a service club, outlining the project. In September, R. H. Logan visited the island dominion, visiting St. John's, Grand Falls, Botwood, Gambo and several points on the east and south coasts. Mr. Logan prepared a complete report on favorable locations for airports in this district.

Transatlantic Service

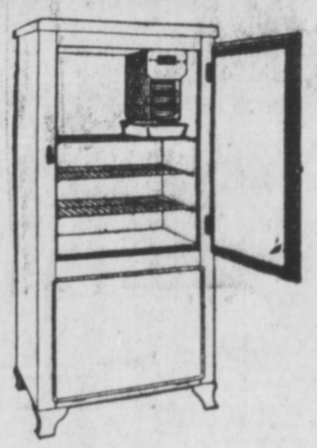

When the Pan American company has established a scheduled service to Newfoundland, the Imperial Airways will immediately complete plans for service across the North Atlantic to Newfoundland, thus opening the first transatlantic service between Europe and the North American continent.

The Imperial Airways will use a fleet of planes on the route, via Iceland, Greenland and Labrador.

Latest reports received here indicate that both companies are confident the connection can be made in 1934. Several successful flights have been made over the northern route and the Capt. Wolfgang Von Gronau's repetition of the journey has won strong support for the promoters.

GIRL GUIDES HOLD DISPLAY

Last evening the Prince Rupert Company of Girl Guides gave their annual display of drills, marches, games, races and badge-work in St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall.

The Port Clements Challenge Cup, donated for patrol work during the year, was won for the third year in succession by the Sunflower Patrol members being Patrol Leader Honora Silversides, Patrol Second Edna MacLean and Guides Merle West, Gerry Cade and Marjorie Silversides. The trophy was presented by Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, president of the Prince Rupert Girl Guides' Association, who, in a few suitable words, congratulated the patrol on its splendid achievement.

Prizes were won for deportment, drilling and marching during the evening by Freda Mussallem (first), Muriel Eby (second) and Jean Watt (third). Victoria Stamford received honorable mention. The prizes were donated and presented to the winners by Mrs. McIntosh.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the patrol leaders and patrol seconds of the company.

In charge of the Guides was Captain Norma Rogers assisted by Lieutenant Muriel Brewerton. Ranger Alethea Peachy was pianist for the evening.

TWO FILMS ON SCREEN

"Mask of Dr. Fu Manchu" and "He Learned About Women" Showing at Capitol Theatre

"The Mask of Dr. Fu Manchu," a mystery thriller starring Boris Karloff, Lewis Stone, Karen Morley, Charles Starrett and Myrna Loy, and "He Learned About Women," a comedy with Stuart Erwin, Alison Skipworth and Susan Fleming in the principal roles, are the features of a double bill film program at the Capitol Theatre here this mid-week.

In the "The Mask of Dr. Fu Manchu" Boris Karloff is seen in the role of the uncanny Oriental monster, Fu Manchu, who in his wild dreams of Oriental power, tortures his victims, heads an amazing plot of intrigue and savagery, and figures in a wild attempt to arouse Asia against the world.

"He Learned About Women" is the story of a young fellow (Stuart Erwin) with $50,000,000 and a lot of book-knowledge, who suddenly decides it's time he learned a bit about the world. Miss Skinworth, cast as an ex-actress, and beauteous Susan Fleming, as an unemployed stenographer, help teach him.
