SKIDEGATE

Over one hundred men joined recently in the search for Harry Beaven, young son of H. R. Beaven of Queen Charlotte City, who became missing while out hunting with two companions. After young Beaven had been missing for a couple of days almost every male citizen of Port Clements, Tlell, Skidegate Mission and Skidegate as well as some from Queen Charlotte City took up the search. Finally, the lad came out at Yakoun River none the worse for his experience. Madame Rajaut, Mr. and Mrs. James Denholme and Mrs. J. R. Morgan did much to assist in the search.

Stipendiary Magistrate A. L. Mallory of Port Clements and Indian Agent James Gillett of Massett paid a visit recently to Skidegate on business, returning to their homes up the island the same day.

Arthur Holland and Clarence Martin of Massett were visitors to Skidegate and Queen Charlotte City, having motored down from Port Clements.

Fred Atkins left last week on the Prince John for Prince Rupert enroute to Vancouver where he will undergo an operation on his leg. Mr. Atkins is one of the owners of the Prince Rupert and Cumshewa groups of gold claims.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Morgan of Crescent Inlet were recent visitors at Madame Rajaut's at the Dunes, Tlell. Mrs. Morgan motored to Skidegate to pay a brief visit with Mrs. E. C. Stevens. She will be returning to Crescent Inlet in a few days, Mr. Morgan having left on the Prince John for Prince Rupert.

Mr. and Mrs. James Denholme of Tlell motored down to Skidegate a few days ago for a brief visit with friends.

People in search of work are being warned against coming to the Queen Charlotte Islands where there are already plenty of men looking for employment.

Ivarson, Andrew Bernardson, Robert Kydd, Pietro Fiorin, Russell James Barr, Mrs. Mary Field, Duncan Matheson, Frederick Murphy, Frank Guest, William Brown and C. Gomez.
