Increase of Fresh, Frozen and Mild-Cured Output Largely Responsible For Falling Off in Canned Salmon-Fewer Sea Lions Taken

Reports received of the Dominion Fisheries show that up to the early part of August more sockeye and pinks were processed in the British Columbia coast salmon canneries of the province than were packed in the corresponding period of 1932 but that other species of salmon were put up in smaller quantities than a year ago. The net result of gains and decreases was that the total pack was about 384,650 cases, John L. Malcolmson who has left approximately 37,800 cases below the coast for a six months' trip to the 1932 figures. his native home in Scotland.

The department explains that, while the pack so far has been smaller than in the like period of Prince Rupert during the week last year, it is noteworthy that one reason for this condition has been that substantial quantities of fish which in other easons would have been canned have this year been prepared for sale in the fresh and frozen forms in order that advantage might be taken of improved marketing opportunities in the United Kingdom. A sharp expansion in the production of fresh and frozen salmon has been taking place. There has also been expanded production of mild-cured salmon.

Many fish bones lying about the a lion rookeries west of Rivers Inet when the Department of Fisheries vessel Givenchy went to that 3,479,750 pohnds in 1932 at the area this year on the annual lion same date. Prices on American fish hunt gave further proof of the during the week ranged from 6.5c mammals' rapacity and the injury and 4c to 7.3c and 4c. they may do to the fisheries. Although weather conditions were favorable during this year's hunt and deer hunting season but, owing to more landings could be made at the fact that there is little if any the rookeries than ever before, the snow on the mountain tops as yet number of lions destroyed was and the deer are, as a consequence, smaller than in 1932, or 923 as compared with about 1,100. The fre- little general interest on the part quency of the landings probably of huntsmen for a while. Hunting made the lions even more wary than for geese and ducks in the Atlin disusual. Of the total number killed trict which includes the country this year 710 were mature lions and around the lower end of Portland 213 were pups.
