HUGE LIBERAL VICTORY ADMITTED

In an analysis of the political situation in British Columbia, a contemporary in Prince Rupert, which is vehemently opposing the election of T. D. Pattullo, the potential premier, predicts the result of the forthcoming provincial election in the following illuminating way, admitting that the Liberals are bound to win by a tremendous majority of seats:

"The viewpoint of the present status is Independents, Conservatives, the C. C. F. may split 15 seats with the balance to the Liberals."

Out of the House of 47 seats, the balance would then be 32 seats held by Liberals.

What then could be the object, in the interests of Prince Rupert, of even risking the defeat of the premier in his own seat by the election of one of the 15 Independents, Conservatives or C. C. F.'s or of any other northern riding rejecting a Liberal candidate?

The same article, published under a Victoria date line further comments as follows: "It is conceded that the C. C. F., instead of a careful educational preparation, mistakenly ran a race before the barrier. It is claimed here that people are afraid to rely on the personnel, and fear association with the expression communism. There seems to be retrogression in socialistic enthusiasm."

FRAUD IS ATTEMPTED

"Spanish Prisoner's Fraud" Epistle Received By Local Business Man

A "Spanish Prisoner's Fraud" letter has been received by a local business man and turned over to the city policy. There has been an epidemic of such letters in the south recently but this is the first to be reported here.

The letter purports to come from a person in Balcelona, Spain, who has been imprisoned for debt and seeks money with which to pay expenses of a lawsuit. He claims to have 1,200,000 pesetas in a trunk which, being in jail, he cannot get access to himself. He promises one-third of this money to the person who will send him the money by wire to pay the costs of his lawsuit.

The "Spanish Prisoner's Fraud" is an ancient racket. The letter in this case is, apparently, a printed one although it is in script.

Sixth Inning Batting Spree Gives New York Second Series Victory

Six Runs and Eight Hits Made in Single Stanza—Alvin Crowder, Washington Hurler, Driven to Showers—Hal Schumacher Winning Pitcher

NEW YORK, Oct. 4: (CP)—A blazing six-run rally in the sixth inning in which Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, former National League batting champion, touched off an explosion with a pinch single with the bases full knocked the veteran Alvin Crowder off the Washington mound and gave the New York Giants their second straight victory in the World Series today over the Senators by a score of six to one.

Young Hal Shumacher held the Senators to five hits including a home run drive by Goose Goslin in the third. There were two down, none on and it was Goslin's third strike. The New York pitcher was in difficulties in the sixth with the bases full but Bluege fanned on three pitched balls.

The avalanche came in the last half of the sixth when Moore, lead off man for the Giants, slapped out a single on the first pitched ball. He was forced at second on Critz's safe bunt, however. Terry came up with a sizzling double, sending Critz to third. Ott was purposely passed and O'Doul pinch-hitted for Davis. A slashing single to centre by O'Doul scored Critz and Terry, Ott making second. The crowd was in an uproar. Jackson poled out a long hit to centre, scoring Ott, O'Doul taking third. Mancuso pulled a squeeze play which fooled the Senators in the field and O'Doul scored. Ryan fanned. Schumacher singled, scoring Jackson, and Moore came up for the second time in the inning, cracking out another hit over second to score Mancuso and send Crowder to the showers. Thomas came in to pitch and Critz singled. Terry grounded out and Critz was forced at second, ending the avalanche of six runs and eight hits. From then on it was quick work retiring the sides.

Provincial Constable and Mrs. Thomas D. Brunton and family arrived in the city on the Prince John this morning from Massett and will take up residence here. Constable Brunton will join the city detachment of the provincial police, the post at Massett been closed.

Constable David Geddes, who has been on a vacation trip to Winnipeg where a brother resides, returned to the city via Vancouver on the Prince George this morning.
