INDUSTRIAL REVIVAL IS TAKING MANY MEN OFF RELIEF

Distinct Improvement in Unemployment Shown Here Just Recently

Provincial Government and Municipal Workless Lists are Both Down and Further Decreases in Immediate Future Are Anticipated

Reopening of mining, fishing, lumbering and other industries in this district during the past few weeks has had the gratifying effect of taking several hundred men, many of whom have dependents, off the unemployment relief lists just recently, an analysis of provincial government and municipal relief statistics reveals. Within the immediate future, as a result of the continuing industrial improvement, it is expected that even more men will be returning to their normal occupations.

Several Mills Will Operate In the Interior

Archie Watt of the C. N. R. mechanical department with headquarters at Prince George, who is in the city today, says there is a noticeable improvement in business conditions in the interior. At Prince George the Alexander mill is operating, sawing lumber for the planking of the big bridge.

Giscome mill is planning to start cutting the logs now on the lake. Most of the lumber in the yard has been sold.

At Fraser Lake the mill is to operate and so is the Sinclair mill east of Giscome. This is the beginning of activity in that section.

Mr. Watt, who came in last night, is returning to Prince George this evening.

GERMANY ACCEPTS PLAN OF BRITAIN FOR DISARMAMENT

GENEVA, May 19: (Canadian Press)—Count Nadolny informed the disarmament conference today that Germany had accepted the British disarmament plan as a basis for an agreement to be reached by the world conference.

By the time the sockeye salmon canning season gets under way on the Skeena River on June 20, it is expected that at least another 300 men in this district will disappear from the relief lists.

As a result of recent deportations, some forty men have been removed from relief here.

Despite the much greater number recorded as being recipients of relief, there are only 200 men registered at present by the local office of the Unemployment Service of Canada as seeking employment.

GET RID OF PREJUDICES SAYS ALDER

Part of Work of Commissioner Will Be to Give City a Better Name, He Tells Rotary Club

"Business which the city should have is going away from here and the local men need that business. There is a feeling prevalent that Prince Rupert is the highest priced city in the country. I do not think it is true for I have looked over the prices of groceries and clothing and they seem to be on a par with prices at Victoria. Yet the fact is that it is in the minds of the people that it is cheaper to buy in Vancouver or Winnipeg and this feeling is hard to overcome." These were approximately the words of W. J. Alder in addressing the Rotary Club yesterday.

Mr. Alder said he had some schemes in mind through which he hoped to reach some of that business.

The elevator situation, the commissioner said, was most unfortunate but he was hopeful of betterment there. The matter is being seriously considered.

Mr. Alder said he was glad to see some business starting up in the district. Members of the government had expressed the opinion that the city was not getting its due from the Canadian National Railways in the matter of direct boat services. Efforts should be expended to make Prince Rupert the pivotal point of all Northern British Columbia. At present the city had not a good reputation at Victoria and Vancouver. He told of being at a meeting of businessmen at Vancouver and being told of a Prince Rupert taxi driver who, when asked to show him the sights of the city took him to the cold storage plant and the "red light" district and said these were the chief points of interest. He would like to see better ideas of the place go out. There was a huge and rich district around and it was very desirable to inculcate a belief in this part of the country and its future. Businessmen must be on their toes to take advantage of their opportunities. If they got the people with a consciousness of the value of the country, it would be the first step toward putting the city on its feet.

In opening his address, Mr. Alder reviewed the financial condition of the city. He thought it might be possible to get the bond holders to take serial bonds in place of those they now hold. At present it would be all the city could do to pay the interest. He said he would do all he could to balance the budget and to advance the interests of the city and he asked for the co-operation of all in his efforts.

In thanking the speaker, President George Woodland expressed the belief that if the commissioner could do anything to help the city he would have behind him every man there.

PROGRESS MADE MOUNTAIN ROAD BY COMMITTEE

At the Rotary Club luncheon in the Commodore Cafe yesterday, Syd. Thomson reported that a meeting of the joint committee on the trail up Mount Oldfield had been held and that it was to meet the city commissioner to ask permission to build across city property to start the trail at this end. The preliminary reconnaissance of the trail had shown that a favorable route could be secured. He hoped that, before the end of the year, by the joint efforts of all members of the community, there would be something to show for the committee's efforts.

ASKING FOR NOMINATION

W. J. Asselstine Will Allow Name to Go Before Liberal Convention For Atlin

W. J. Asselstine, mill superintendent at Premier Mine, who is in the city today, says he is allowing his name to go before the Liberal convention for Atlin riding which it is expected will be held the first week in June, probably at Anyox. He has been asked to do this and he says he is thoroughly familiar with the mining industry and he believes he could serve the constituency and the province if chosen. He comes out as a straight Liberal and is asking the endorsement of the convention as such.

Mr. Asselstine thinks there are great possibilities in developing small mineral properties in the district along the lines of modern trends in mineralogy. These properties cannot stand the heavy overhead of a large operation but could be made to pay well if developed along modern lines. To encourage this would be one of his endeavors if he represented the mining district. These operations would not feature in world production but would assist in the progress of the community.

Mr. Asselstine, who arrived in the city last night, has been on a visit to Anyox and is returning home to Premier this evening.

Two Companions Escape With $263 From Club in Vancouver—Constable David Richardson in Hospital With Bullet in Leg

VANCOUVER, May 19: (Canadian Press)—Reginald McRae, aged 20, is dead and Constable David Richardson of the city police is in hospital with a bullet wound in the leg as a result of a running gun battle on Robson Street late last night following the hold-up and robbery of the Service Recreation Club. Three armed men held up occupants of a room, looted a cash register of $263 and escaped from the premises as Constables Richardson and Veitch arrived.

The man darted out of the lane and fled east along Robson Street with the officers in pursuit. The suspect turned and fired, slightly wounding Richardson. The latter returned the fire, sending three bullets into the man's body. He died in hospital later but was conscious long enough to give his name as "Joseph Anthony." This was, however, corrected this morning by the youth's father who identified the body as being that of Reginald McRae, his son.

The two other men with the loot have not yet been located.
