bell, Right Rev. Msgr. Nelligan, Chief Justice Horace Harvey, Alan B. Harvey, Guy Patterson, Clayton McLennan, A. H. McLachlan, Nelles Buchanan, W. T. Carmichael, M.P. for Kindersley, Sask.; Peter Glassman, R. M. Edmanson, Calgary, and many others.

Mr. King in commencing his brief address, said that his address would be non-political and paid a tribute to the note of chivalry which had been struck by those of differing political creeds who had honored him by being present. Mr. King expressed his regret at the fact that too often politics were clouded by personalities rather than by dealing with the issues of the day.

"There is a great tendency to confuse the issues and the men who raise those issues," he declared.

"We are all aiming at a common goal, to serve our country and its people," Mr. King loyally said, but sometimes different roads were travelled to arrive at that goal.

Pointing out the reason for his present tour, Mr. King said that there was a feeling that the people of the rural sections are overlooked in the hurly-burly of a campaign tour and it was to remedy this oversight that he was making his present trip, preferring rather to speak at the smaller—though none the less important—centres and reach the ear of all classes of the country.

"So now I am visiting the places which are generally overlooked in an election campaign—that is, if we ever have a general election again, the speaker added, amid loud laughter.

"There is a new note being heard throughout the land," continued the ex-premier.

"The coupon-clipper—the man who inherited money or obtained it through some fortunate circumstances, won't lead the easy life in the future that he has enjoyed in the past. His days of idleness are over.

"The people who passed their days in a life of selfish ease and self-glorification will have to change.

"A new conception of noblesse oblige and the spirit of real service is seizing on the country—that is what I have found to be coming over us," said Mr. King, amid cheers.

"Now we can see more clearly than ever before that the well-being of the city depends on the well-being of the country—that the primary producers, such as farmers, lumbermen, miners and fishermen, must be prosperous before that prosperity is general."

Spirit of Optimism

"One thing that has impressed me has been the spirit of optimism, of co-operation, of charity and unselfishness which I have found in the rural sections," Mr. King went on.

"Whatever comes of the phase through which we are now passing, I am sure that the world will be richer in the belief that industry is not for the enrichment of a few, but rather for the betterment of the many.

"The real people are the men and women who work in social service by devoting all their energies to production for the benefit of humanity."

Catholic Camp Across Harbor

Rev. Father Grant Doing Exeellent Work in Fostering Place For Boys to Enjoy Themselves

Rev. Father Grant, who is the priest in charge of the local Catholic congregation, has been interesting himself in a boys' camp on a small island at the other side of the harbor. A very nice little camp has been built and half a dozen boys have been enjoying life there for the past several weeks.

Each day Father Grant goes to the camp and usually takes some other boys to visit. He is having a good time and the boys enjoy it greatly.

While only six boys can be accommodated this year, the question of extensions will be considered next season.

ALL-BRAN RELIEVED HIS CONSTIPATION

Delicious Cereal Brought New Health to Mr. Bartholomew

We quote from his voluntary letter: "I had considerable trouble with my stomach. Digestion was out of the question. I got medicine which gave me only temporary relief.

"Then I thought of taking ALL-BRAN. I started eating a cereal dishful two or three times a day.

"It has been over a year now since I ate that first dish of bran, but from that day to this I have had the pleasure of enjoying the proper functioning of the digestive organs.

"Thanks to ALL-BRAN. I still eat it regularly and like it better all the time."—Lester Bartholomew. (Address furnished upon request.)

Constipation is usually due to lack of "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote elimination. ALL-BRAN supplies both, as well as iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Certainly this food is more natural than taking harmful patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Chicago Visitors Landed Salmon Near Squadaree

A very successful and enjoyable fishing trip was made to Squadaree yesterday when Paul Armour entertained Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, visitors from Chicago, for a day's outing to the fishing grounds where they landed four large salmon. Mrs. Kelly was delighted and had quite a thrill when she hooked the first one soon after throwing her line in.

Slum Clearing Being Started

London Embarking On a Huge Scheme For Rehousing the People

LONDON, August 15 (CP)—London is embarking on a slum-clearing scheme involving the expenditure of $175,000,000 and providing for the rehousing of 250,000 people on a basis of five persons to a tenement. The expenditure will be spread over 10 years.

The bulk of the displacements will be in Stepney, Bethnal Green and Shoreditch. A preliminary survey shows 20,000 insanitary houses in courts and alleys, where rehousing on the sites is impracticable, and 9,000 in areas capable of redevelopment.
