DISCUSSING CABINET

The composition of T. D. Pattullo's cabinet is being seriously discussed even by the Vancouver Province, which is opposing the party headed by Prince Rupert's representative. That indicates that most people expect Mr. Pattullo will be returned with a sufficient support in the Legislature to enable him to form a cabinet.

Liberals did most of their nominating some time ago and have not been much heard from while the other parties have been trying their best to uncover likely candidates in some cases with little success. This has meant that the minor parties have been more in the newspapers of late than the Liberals.

Once campaigning commences, however, there will be a merry jumble of political talking and, even if the Liberal talk is not quite as loud as that of other groups, doubtless it will be heard.
