Dance—James Simpson, Ben Dalgarno, F. W. Stamp-Vincent and H. G. Kennedy.

Return of Caps And Belts Owned By Sailors Asked

Souvenir hunters carried away from the dance last night at the Moose Hall several caps and belts belonging to sailors of H. M. S. Dragon. The Dragon's commander advised this morning that the loss to the men is serious as they have no replacements aboard ship and the men whose caps and belts are missing will have to remain aboard ship until they return to their base or receive new equipment.

In the interests of fair play those having these articles are asked to return them immediately to the Moose Club to enable them to be shipped south to catch the warship at Campbell River.

Northland Transportation Co.'s motorship Norco, Capt. Ekholm, arrived in port at 3:30 yesterday afernoon from Ketchikan and, after discharging one carload of frozen fish for transhipment East over the Canadian National Railways(sailed for Seattle.

POSSIBILITY OF NAVAL BASE AT RENNELL SOUND DISCUSSED AGAIN; SURVEYING?

Sound is uninhabited although fishermen occasionally drop in there and prospectors have of late become interested in the west coast of Queen Charlotte Islands owing to the favorable reports being sent out in regard to the gold mining activities on Kootenay Harbor and Gold Harbor not far south of the sound but on Moresby Island instead of Graham Island.

No explanation is given as to the reason why an American survey party should be operating on Rennell Sound. In fact the whole operation is shrouded in mystery. During the past season or two Canadian destroyers have visited Skidegate Inlet but no word was received of their having gone up Rennell Sound although they may well have done so when protecting the seal herds on their annual northward migration.

Atlantic Coast Steamer Caught In Violent Gale

NEW YORK, August 24 (Canadian Press)—The coastal steamer Madison, with more than ninety persons on board including thirty-seven passengers, sent out calls for help off Cape Charles, Virginia. The vessel was caught in a violent storm, warnings of which had been issued the day previous.

WHIFFLETS
From the Waterfront

Inspector of Fisheries E. S. Richardson of the Queen Charlotte Islands paid a brief visit to port Tuesday night on official duties, making the trip across Hecate Straits and back again in the departmental cruiser which he uses.

The palatial yacht Infanta, having on board its owner, John Barrymore, noted moving picture actor, and party, which arrived here yesterday morning from the north, left this morning in continuation of its return voyage to California. During an Alaskan cruise which had occupied the better part of the last month Mr. Barrymore travelled as far as a short distance north of Juneau. The actor reported having had a good deal of fine angling during the trip.

HAD BEEN DESPONDENT

Joseph Renner Who Shot Himself Recently on Queen Charlottes Was Highly Respected

Further particulars have been received from the Queen Charlotte Islands in regard to the recent death of Joseph Renner. It seems that he shot himself in the woodshed adjoining his home with a twelve bore shotgun and was quite dead when found by a harvest hand who ran to the spot when he heard the report of the gun.

The man at once rowed to Queen Charlotte City and reported the tragedy to Police Constable G. C. Sharpe who fetched the remains to the village. An inquest was conducted by A. L. Mallory.

Mr. Renner was well known and highly respected in the community. At one time he owned a large dairy farm in California but sold it to join the rush to the Klondike. He then went to Atlin and operated placer mines. It was in 1907 that he went to Queen Charlotte Islands and took up land at Maude Island in Skidegate Inlet where he was looked upon as one of the successful farmers.

A little over a year ago Mr. Renner lost his wife who died following a brief illness at the Queen Charlotte City Hospital. Since that time he had been despondent and many times told friends he wished he were with his wife.

The remains were buried at the Queen Charlotte cemetery, all local pioneers attending. Pallbearers were H. Beavan, A. C. Pallant, E. C. Stevens, G. Carmichael and Capt. John Haan. Rev. Mr. McKenzie officiated.
