It must not be thought that because there was strong READY FOR wement in stocks at the week and movement in stocks at the week-end that there will be a steady uninterrupted forward movement. There will be setbacks but the general average of advance over a reasonable period is the guage of new values being set.

As we have said before, the stock exchange is a good barometer of what is about to happen. Before there was any depression, the stock exchange prices broke and it was some time before conditions became really bad. So the rise in price of stocks is preceding a general improvement in conditions that is coming as surely as the sun rises after it sets.

BIG JOB AHEAD

If the Wheat Pool decides to abandon the Prince Rupert elevator there will be a big job ahead of the city in trying to interest some new concern to take it over. No stone must be left unturned as soon as it is definitely ascertained career, is placed on the short end of as follows: what the Pool is about to do.

As a last resort it is possible that a co-operative move- 2 to 1. ment to handle grain here may have to be resorted to. Advances can usually be secured on wheat so that the sum required in handling is not as great as it might seem. There ARMS FOR is a great opportunity for some new concern to establish an export business here that will develop with the years.

TITLES ONCE MORE

There are in Canada a lot of people who would like to have titles which distinguish them as being different from the common herd. Canadian people have declared against the custom but majorities are often easily handled. They Press) - Lieut.-Col. Calvin Godcannot be depended upon to stay with any decision. That is one of the difficulties of democratic administration. Masses of people are unstable. Today they want one thing Fingerprints of all weapon carriers and tomorrow something else.

It is to be hoped that the people of the west at any rate will set themselves against any revival of a custom which is a survival of the feudal days.

The Strangler Gets a Hand-Out

News and Views of Sport

"Jumping" Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star and now a luminary of the wrestling game, is pictured as he repulsed the not-so-tender embrace of "Strangler" Lewis during their recent bout at Madison Square Carden, New York. Savoldi won the bout for the "Strangler" when he dived through the ropes of the ring, in good old Notre Dame tackle style, and knocked himself unconscious on the unsympathic Garden concrete floor.

Defeated Borden Street School by Score of 3 to 1

Borden Street and Booth Memorial School teams met in a regular Junior Football League fixture on Saturday last and Booth won but only after overcoming a first half lead of one goal. The final score was three to one for Booth.

Borden had the better of the first half, O'Neil, Houston and Monkley playing well at half back with Veitch always a threat at centre forward, From a cross from Jones, Veitch gave Borden the lead with a shot that went in off the unright. Mah and Dybhavn repelled Booth attacks and, at half time, Borden was up one goal to Booth put on pressure right from the kickoff and Eby scored following a corner from McMeekin. It was from another corner taken by the same player that Grimble put Booth ahead. McGreish stopped Dave Houston and Jones to rive McMeekin a good opening and, from the latter's centre. Grimble added a third. Borden attacked and Nelson managed to stop Veitch after Jones and Veitch CELEBRATES stop Veltch after Jones and Veltch had made headway. Postuk saved from McMeekin and, at the other end.
