"Mary Stevens M.D." and "Leap Year" Featured Pictures on Capitol Double Bill

"Mary Stevens M.D.," the strange story of a triangular love affair in- low. volving Kay Francis, Lyle Talbot and Thelma Todd, and "Leap Year," a British comedy, telling the story Louis Johnson was fined $25, with of a gay diplomat's love affairs with option of fourteen days' imprison-Tom Walls in the principal role, are ment in city police court. featured pictures on an excellent double bill at the Capitol Theatre here this mid-week.

In "Mary Stevens M.D." a boy and girl, playmates since childhood, both become doctors and their friendship ripens into love. The man, however, chooses marriage with a powerful politician's daughter only to become entangled in a domestic scandal resulting in his indictment when his childhood sweetheart goes to him and gives him her love. Powerful emotional drama follows with a happy ending after some touching incidents.

"Leap Year" makes splendid entertainment, exceedingly well acted and magnificently produced. An officer of the British foreign service meets a beautiful stranger with whom he falls in love. They part but meet four years later, the diplomat, in the meantime, having become engaged to another. Piquant situations resulting are cleverly handled. Anne Grey plays the part of the girl.
