Prince George Man Violated Minimum Wage Act; Must Pay

Divisional headquarters of the provincial police have been advised of judgment being rendered by Judge H. A. Robertson of Prince George in a case in which Karl Anderson was charged with violation of the Minimum Wage Act, the defendant being fined $25 and costs and, in addition, being required to pay a girl whom he had employed to work in his store the sum of $86.36, which amount was the difference between the amount of wages actually paid the girl and the amount required under the Act.
