From the Waterfront

Capt. Albert Rippon, formerly well known as a skipper of vessels of the British Columbia Coast Steamship Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway on the northern coast, and Capt. Alex Cameron, formerly with the Coastwise Steamship & Barge Co., have assumed duty with the coast pilotage service to which they were recently appointed. Capt. Ernest Georgeson, master of the Union steamer Cardena; Capt. Robert Hunter, for years on the Triangle Run steamers of the Canadian Pacific; Capt. James Flood, also well known in northern waters on C. P. R. boats, and Capt. C. R. Brewster, another Coastwise skipper, are reported to have succeeded in examinations for the pilotage and will receive appointments later, it is understood.

Capt. Peter Byrne arrived in port yesterday afternoon with a catch of 1500 pounds of flatfish for the local fresh fish market. Capt. Byrne plans to go out again for another load later in the week.

C. N. R. steamer Prince John, Capt. Edward Mabbs, coming north from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands on a regularly scheduled voyage, is expected to arrive here early tomorrow morning. The vessel left Skidegate Inlet at 11 o'clock last night for Massett Inlet where she is making her calls today before coming on here.

Having been delayed by loading canned salmon in the Naas River, Union steamer Catala, Capt. James Findlay, arrived in port at 2:45 this afternoon from Anyox, Stewart and other northern points and sailed about an hour later for Vancouver and waypoints.

SAYS 'TIS NO SHARK

Capt. Pete Wold of Halibut Boat Toodie Another to Disagree With Dr. Clemens' Identity

Capt. Pete Wold of the local halibut boat Toodie is another who is inclined to take issue with Dr. W. A. Clemens, director of the Nanaimo Biological Station, in identifying Prince Rupert's sea monster as a basking shark. A basking shark's tail, Capt. Wold says, is hard and, if the skeleton found on Henry Island were such, there should have been some remains of the tail. Further, the basking shark has a shell-like head and there should have been some remains of that as well.

Capt. Wold says that basking sharks are very common in Hecate Straits and Cape St. James waters in the summer during the fishing season. Floating on the surface like sodden logs, he has often run into them with his boat. It would be quite an easy matter to catch one, he thinks.

MUSTARD'S the thing for that COUGH or COLD!

It does not pay to take any chances with so-called "simple" coughs and colds! Fill the bathtub with piping hot water and add three tablespoonsful of Colman's Mustard mixed first to a thin paste. The old saying is "Leave your cold in a mustard bath!" Soak and relax; perspire and tingle. Then a good rub-down, jump into bed and sweat out the poisons. A grand old remedy! If more convenient, wrap yourself up warm and soak your feet for 15 minutes in a pail of steaming hot water with 1 tablespoonful of Colman's—and get to bed. And you can rely on the old-fashioned mustard plasters for quick relief for chest colds.
