Guide to Correspondents

The Daily News welcomes correspondence on live topics of the day or any other subject of public interest, but letters must be brief and to the point. The long-winded correspondent has no place in modern journalism.
Every letter must be signed by the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a matter of good faith and courtesy. All unsigned documents go to the waste paper basket. Letters of a caustic character must have the signature appended for publication.
Letter should be written on one side of the paper only. Correspondents must avoid personalities and the language should be such as would be allowed in the ordinary rules of debate.

Action A-Plenty When Australian Horses Vie For Lead

A remarkable photograph, guaranteed to stir a pulsation within the breast of any lover of horseflesh, vividly portrays the fighting spirit of animals as they hurl themselves forward to gain the lead during a thrilling race meeting in Melbourne, Australia. Notice their laid-back ears, their dilated nostrils and how, with their heads raised high and strained forward, they strive to the utmost for the utmost for the utmost.
