

HUSBAND IS ABSOLUTE LORD AND HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD

Judge Decides He is Entitled to Order His Meals at Any Hour, Choose the Servants, and Decide What Food is to be Put on the Table

(Canadian Press Despatch) Springfeld, Mass., July 25.—These precepts for the guidance of wives and husbands in cases of difference over household economics, are laid down by Judge Charles L. Long, in the separate support case brought by Mrs. Edith S. Marsh against Henry D. Marsh, assistant treasurer of the Five Cent Savings Bank: "The husband is absolute lord and master of the exchequer. "He is entitled to his meals at any hour he wants them.

"He may select such food as he chooses. If he wants one food and his wife another, the husband's decision goes. "A servant girl to whom the husband objects must be discharged. "Finally, man—who pays the bills, and not woman—is boss." Judge Long advised the Marshes to patch up their differences. Mr. Marsh left the court room wreathed in smiles. Mrs. Marsh did not endorse the court's opinions, and said so.

you proceeded to put into execution. Leaving your door just as day was breaking, you filled your pocket with some reddish gravel which was lying heaped beside your gate."

Sterndale gave a violent start and looked at Holmes in amazement.

"You then walked swiftly for the mile which separated you from the vicarage. You were wearing, I may remark, the same pair of ribbed tennis shoes which are at the present moment upon your feet. At the vicarage you passed through the orchard and the side hedge, coming out under the window of the lodger, Tregennis. It was now daylight, but the household was not yet stirring. You drew some of the gravel from your pocket, and you threw it up at the window above you."

Sterndale sprang to his feet. "I believe that you are the devil himself!" he cried.

MAGISTRATE CARSS ATTACKED

Mayor Takes Umbrage

It looked to the Mayor now as if Alderman Clayton was hinting that the Police Commissioners were not doing their duty, and the Mayor as Chairman of the Police Commission immediately resented this.

"If there is any man in this city," he said, "who can claim that he has a pull with the Police Commission, I should like him to trot out right here." I am not going to stand for any insinuations against the Police Board and against myself as Chairman of it. I object very strongly to such insinuations from any member of this council."

"I make no insinuations against the Police Commission," said Alderman Clayton never batting an eyebrow, "but I do say that if things like this are allowed to go on by the council, then it is time we dismissed the man responsible for them."

Named Mr. Carss

So far while the term "Police Magistrate" had been used occasionally no one had made any direct mention of the magistrate's name. It was left for Alderman Newton to do it. He did it without mincing the matter. "I meant my remarks," he said, "to apply to the police magistrate of this city. To prevent any mistake I will name him. I refer to Police Magistrate Carss who reprimanded the Chief of Police for having acted against these men without having first seen him."

Doubting Douglas

Although the work of the police in the city is clearly approved by the other aldermen, Alderman Douglas has his doubts even of their integrity. "The police may be doing their duty all right," he said, "but I was going around the hotels late the other night, and if they were not doing business I'd be very much surprised." (Great applause greeted this account of Douglas in the role of Sherlock Holmes).

"I don't blame the police," said Alderman Newton, "but put it this way: Is it any wonder if they do allow illegal goings when they are reprimanded when they do bring in cases?"

Some mitigation of the harsh term "reprimanded" was attempted by the city solicitor who stated that it was usual, and in fact necessary for the Chief of Police before undertaking a raid, to obtain authority from the magistrate or a member of the Police Commission. However, he remarked that he had never heard the magistrate reprimand the chief for not having got this permission. He agreed that the chief had made out a complete case, and said that he himself differed with the magistrate's decision. He had hoped to have brought the case up for trial at the higher court, but it was a case where speedy trial might be chosen by the accused.

MUCH WANTED MEAT IS HERE

Princess Royal Brought Great Chunks of the Finest for the Depleted Butchers' Boards. Hungry Householders Will be Fed on Fish Again.

What was it made so many people anxious last night to greet the arrival of the C. P. R. S.S. Princess Royal? Up till a late hour citizens were to be seen pacing to and fro, going down to the wharf, and returning, even ringing up Digby Island to discover where the Royal was. An anxious, not to say a hungry, look haunted the faces of many of the watchers. It was not the "Lonely for a girl" look that might have been justified by the fact that a new theatre company was due to arrive by the Royal. It was real hunger.

For Prince Rupert has been short of meat for a number of days now. For some reason or other the last boats from below failed to bring the much desired provender for the flesh pots of Rupert. Housewives have been besieging apologetic butchers until the poor men have exhausted their little stock of meat, and their

Water for Far Out Folk

Alderman Newton again emphasized his idea that water pipes should be carried to the outlying districts beyond Seal Cove where people are anxious to build. Alderman Hilditch is not very enthusiastic about this.

To Root Out Free-love

Tacoma, Wash., July 25.—Federal and county officials today decided to take aggressive steps to destroy the colony of free-lovers which for several years has existed at Home, on Lake Bay, 20 miles from here. Ranchers in the vicinity have made numerous complaints lately because members of the colony—men and women—have persisted in bathing in the nude and parading about the streets without taking the trouble to clothe themselves.

KNIFE STILL IN ENGINEER'S DEPT.

Ald. Newton Hears of H. Simpson's Resignation, and Expresses Hope His Place will not be Filled.

Draughtsman H. Simpson has resigned from his position as head of the draughting department of the City Engineer's department at the City Hall. His letter of resignation was received last night. In moving the acceptance of the resignation Alderman Newton added that he would like to include with it the phrase that the council expresses the hope that Mr. Simpson's place be not filled. Colonel Davis has recommended that Mr. Parker of the draughting department take Mr. Simpson's place, and Alderman Newton does not want any fresh help engaged for this department. He said at last night's council meeting that he thought the Engineer's department was fully staffed already if not over staffed for all the work they do.

ROOM FOR FILL ON SECTION ONE

But Ald. Hilditch Wants Preference Given to Owners of Lots who Want to Improve for Building Purposes.

In Section One there is going to be room for rather more fill than the City Engineer has to dump, and lot owners in this section are accordingly benefited. Those owning high lots can now find room for a limited amount of fill nearer their lots than might otherwise have been.

At last night's council Alderman Hilditch was rather emphatic that preference should be given to those lot owners who are anxious to build and improve lots for business purposes, rather than those who wish to improve simply for speculative ends.
