SIGNS OF THE TIMES

During a recent business trip through the interior of British Columbia eastward along the railway it was found that there was improvement being shown at most points. Crops were good and the number of people getting relief from the government had been reduced to at least one-third of the number at the same time last year.

GENERAL THROUGHOUT CANADA

The experience of Northern British Columbia seems to be that of all Canada. The Royal Bank monthly report just recently issued tells of the greatly increased volume of business which has almost reached the amount done in 1926, the year which initiated the great wave of prosperity.

VALUE OF RELIEF

The question of relief is one that is much discussed throughout the interior. Evidently it has its good points as well as its bad. It is claimed by some that farmers on relief will not sell some of their produce because it means that the amount received has to be deducted from their relief checks.

On the other hand, it is claimed by some that the present relief payments take the place of the usual public works expenditures, particularly on road maintenance. It is said that the relief gangs work well and that, by the present plan, the work is distributed much more fairly than under the old political system.

Because it doesn't pay to advertise poor products, It does pay to buy those advertised.

JR. SOCCER IS OPENED

Booth Victorious Over Borden By Three to One Score

The first football game of the fall schedule of the junior league resulted in a win for Booth Memorial School from Borden Street School by three goals to one after a well contested game Saturday afternoon.

Both teams attacked in turn at the start and then Borden pressed, a hard drive by Currie being well saved by Krause. With the wind, Booth attacked dangerously and forced three corners in succession and, from a scrimmage following the third, Christian scored. Currie made a good run but Barton shot weakly. Fitch and Currie led an attack but Smith shot past. Both teams were serving up a high standard of football, play being very fast and nice combination being played.

The second half found Borden having the wind advantage and Finley had to clear. Fitch tested Krause with a hard drive and the goalie also cleared from Currie. In a breakaway, Ritchie, Ormiston and Davie combined nicely for Davie to score with a fine shot, the best goal of the game. Borden hemmed Booth in their penalty area but weak shooting aided by good goal-keeping held them at bay. Barton tried out Krause and Knutson cleared. Mah went close with a drive and at last A. Smith scored for Borden. The game became faster and Borden tried desperately to add to the score. McKay was ever in the thick of the game and Ormiston and Scherk did well. Barton and Houston tried and then Ormiston and Ritchie got away but full time brought an interesting game to a close with Booth three goals to Borden's one.

Referee, J. Carroll; linesmen, F. Williscroft, W. Clarke. Borden—Albert Mah; Brown, Perpich; Fitch, Mah, R. Smith; Currie, Houston, Barton, A. Smith and Williscroft.

Booth—Krause; Knutson, Finley; Ormiston, McKay, Scherk; Cameron, Christian, Ritchie, Davie, Wikdal.

Good Brand of Play

For an opening game both teams displayed a high class of football, the players keeping their positions well and showing method in their kicking. Mah, in Borden goal, was unlucky in having two of the goals turned past him by defenders. They should learn to keep out from their goal. Perpich and Brown give promise of developing into good players. Mah was always a strong player and Fitch was one of the best on the field. R. Smith completed a good half-back line. The forwards were over-anxious and got bunched too much. Williscroft and Currie were the most dangerous with young Smith showing up well. Barton and Houston showed nice touches.

Krause kept a grand goal for Booth and Finley shows every sign of making a first class back. Knutson was safe too. McKay was the pick of the halves with Ormiston getting in good work and improving as the game progressed. Scherk also improved. Ritchie was clever at centre but should put more life into his play. Christian and Davie worked very hard and Cameron was good. Wikdal tried hard but was played out of position.

Altogether the teams served up a splendid game with Jimmie Carroll handling the whistle in a very efficient manner.

The Letter Box

OUR TAXATION

Editor, Daily News.—I read with interest "Plebelan's" letter on the subject of our city taxes and would like to join with him in praising the work and accomplishments of City Commissioner W. J. Alder in the past two years. For a man who is appointed for the bondholders' interests he certainly has done very well.

Incidentally, he has proven that city government is better run by a city manager. When the time comes the taxpayers of the Prince Rupert should seriously consider the appointment of a competent city manager.

Mr. Alder is endeavoring to reduce the interest on city bonds by a refunding scheme. Our indebtedness is about two million dollars. A saving of 2% means $40,000. How far does this reduction go in relieving the taxridden property owners?

The commissioner has done everything he could. There were no favorites. City employees and teachers accepted their cuts. Everything that could be cut without reducing the efficiency has been done. All this economy and reduction enabled the city to meet its obligations on demand without borrowing from the bank. But did this economy help the taxpayer or is the property still going back to the city?

Immediately after the announcement of the Prince Rupert proposal, a provincial plan was proposed. It is designed to help the goose that lays the golden egg without much sacrifice on the part of the bondholder.

We do not want to default, neither do we want to lose our property, but, unless relief is forthcoming, the property will be lost. I can point out many a block on Third Avenue that is not producing enough rent to pay two-thirds of the taxes to say nothing of the upkeep, insurance and mortgage interest.

There is no use talking the problem in a half-hearted fashion. Let us deal with it effectively. We need relief to enable us to meet our obligations. Reduce the taxes and more will be collected. Keep them at the present level and more property will be returned to the city. This may keep on until the load becomes so heavy that the bondholder may be glad to accept 50 cents on the dollar.

Therefore, I would suggest that the taxpayers petition the provincial government before the proposed refunding scheme is accepted and put into effect. Let us request a more liberal refunding scheme to enable the commissioner to reduce the taxes or let us wait until the municipalities in the south settle this question.

A TAXPAYER.

Hauptmann Is Charged

New York might fight proceedings of the state of New Jersey to extradite him on charges of kidnapping and murder unless there was the most positive certainty that he could be convicted upon the same. New York officials declare they have an airtight case against Hauptmann.

Hauptmann is a carpenter and was formerly located near Hopewell, N.J., at which place was the Lindbergh estate from which the kidnapping took place. Hauptmann appeared in police court this morning charged with extortion in connection with the kidnapping case and was remanded for one week.

Mrs. F. A. MacCallum leaves on this evening's train to attend a Dominion convention of the Anglican Woman's Auxiliary in Brandon and Winnipeg as delegate from the local branch. She will visit her old home at Regina and at Prince George on her way back and expects to be away about a month.
