UNITED STATES CONDITION

Those who fear that the United States may go to the "demnition bow-wows" may take heart from the June report of the Royal Bank of Canada just to hand. It says:

"Despite the wave of pessimism which swept over New mer. York in May and inundated the security market, the recovery in business and industry in the United States during the past year is an amazing spectacle to the outside provincial police here have been Gurvich. world. With an increase of about 25 percent in commodity Mibali at Prince George in the sum prices and 100 percent in security prices, the index of of $50 on a charge of stealing business activity in March 1934 was carried 44 percent furnace. above that of the previous March. Although these comparisons and those given below may seem to exaggerate has been on a trip to Vancouver the improvement, because they are contrasts between and elsewhere in the south, was a present conditions and those of March 1933 which was the passenger aboard the Prince absolute nadir of the depression, yet the figures for March Gtorge yesterday returning to the 1933 were only a little below those of December 1932 or Portland Canal camp. January and February 1933. It is these comparisons that Miss Luella Brooks of Terrace, account for the general state of quiet confidence which is who has been on a trip to Vancharacteristic of most parts of the United States at the couver and Victoria, arrived in the present time, as compared with the panic and despair early city from the couth on the Prince in 1933."

Attention is drawn in the report to the autumn decline train. last year and says that country has only recovered to the position attained last July and there is now another reaction which has not so far proved serious. The report goes on the Prince George yesterday on to say:

"As to the time for the next major upward movement the Independent Order of Oddfelwhich will carry the United States to a new plateau on the lows. Mrs. Wood is remaining in the upward course, there is no clear basis for forecast, yet the south for a while longer. omens are favorable and it seems improbable that this next major upward movement can be long delayed."

The writer of the report sees a movement coming in the raphs agent at Terrace, arrived in building trades due to the shortage in buildings and the terday after a trip south to attend plentiful supply of cheap money. Over-expansion in credit the is feared as the major danger ahead.
