EDITORIAL STILL WORKING

A year ago or more the publisher of the Daily News wrote an editorial article dealing with the relations between Canada and the United States. A copy of it was sent to Edson R. Waite of Oklahoma who sent it out to a chain of newspapers. Since that time clippings from papers have been coming to hand from time to time showing papers in various parts of United States and Canada having reprinted it. A dozen clippings from Canadian papers arrived yesterday but most of the clippings have been from publications in different parts of the United States. In all, the article has now been re-printed in one hundred and fifty newspapers and in at least one paper it was printed in a three-column frame and left in from day to day as a space filler.

The article is as timely today as it was when written, so we venture to give it once more in the form in which it has appeared everywhere:

H. F. Pullen, publisher of the Prince Rupert (B.C.) Daily News, says:

That Canada is the closest neighbor of the United States and the people of the two countries are so similar that it would be difficult for a visitor to either country to be sure on which side of the boundary he was if he were not told.

We are Canadians and the people of the United States call themselves Americans, but all come from the same original stock. In each country there is a predominance of people of British origin with British ideals and a British outlook. There is also a large mixture of other European people, all being gradually welded into a new nation, one to the south and the other to the north of an arbitrary dividing line.

The southern climate of the United States is more attractive to the ordinary visitor who wishes relaxation but the climate of Canada is the more bracing and tends to make a hardier and more virile people.

Between the two people there is a tariff and immigration wall that separates them much more completely than does the Atlantic Ocean cut off Europe. Canadians cannot buy in the United States because the import duty is high and people south of the line cannot buy in Canada for a similar reason. People in one country cannot migrate to the other except under the strictest supervision. However, they do pay brief visits across the line and this interchange of visits is on the increase.

Today leading citizens on either side of the line are beginning to see the advantage of closer relations with their neighbors. Canada has a large market for many United States products and the United States could with advantage use Canadian paper, pulp, lumber and fish. We are developing business with countries thousands of miles away and neglecting to trade over the fence with our next door neighbors because they have refused to trade with us.

The logical move is for statesmen from Canada and United States to sit around a table and discuss these matters as friends and neighbors and make permanent arrangements for buying and selling and for coming and going back and forth across the unfenced line.

Man in the Moon

The Trumper twins Are off to see How very smart They both can be. At all their toys Their nose turns up They will not play With Tim the pup.

But very soon Those twins come back, Something to do Is what they lack, To toys and pup They'll turn once more, Take off fine clothes, Romp on the floor.

What about getting out and building that road to the Peace River? I'll put in half a day on the job.

Now that the roses are distributed, what about a game of softball for a change?

Jake says he's soft enough already without playing with a lot of other softies.

I wish I were a youngster Out playin' on the lot, Lettin' all the world go by And not caring a jot.

Cabaret Bridge Party Yesterday Very Enjoyable

A very successful and enjoyable cabaret bridge party was held by the Rebekah Lodge yesterday afternoon in the Oddfellows' Hall which was prettily decorated for the occasion with spring flowers. There were nineteen tables in play and the satisfactory sum of $25 was realized as a result of the affair. During the afternoon delicious refreshments were served.

Prize winners were Mrs. James Krikevsky, who received a beautiful cushion, and Mrs. W. A. McLean, who took the consolation award. Mrs. J. W. McKinley was the winner in a bean guessing contest.

A brief but acceptable program included vocal solos by Master David Houston, Scotch dances by Betty Wilkinson, accompanied by Edith Wilkinson, and tap dancing by Edna McLean, accompanied by Jean McLean.

Mrs. Horace Tattersal, noble grand, and Mrs. Jack Durran, past noble grand, received the guests. Mrs. Alex McNeill and Mrs. J. W. McKinley poured and the committee in charge consisted of Mrs. J. Durran, Mrs. Bert Morgan, Mrs. Alex McNeill, Mrs. J. W. McKinley, Miss E. M. Earl, Mrs. W. Pierce and Mrs. Peter Solem.

ANNOUNCING The New 1934 PONTIAC

1934 — year of outstanding automotive achievement brings you Pontiac—a new model of extraordinary performance, comfort, and value! Time-proved features which brought fame to past Pontiacs have been retained. Important new refinements have been added... many of them actually suggested by Canadian motorists, through their whole-hearted co-operation with General Motors' Customer Research activities.

First of all, the now-famous Kneec-Action Wheels enable you to enjoy a Floating Ride. No bumps! No jars! No shimmy! Naturally, the exclusive Fisher No-Draft Ventilation, pioneered in last year's General Motors cars, has been retained and improved to provide an even greater measure of comfort and protection. Safety is further assured by new Bendix brakes... a strapping K-Y

"Girder Box" frame... and new Multi-Beam headlights. Pontiac's mighty Straight-8 engine has been correspondingly advanced. It's faster, smoother, more powerful, more economical... and, because of live rubber suspension, practically vibrationless. Then too, increase in wheelbase, in car weight, in body size, and in tire size, all tend to make this the roomiest, easiest-riding automobile ever to bear the famous Indian-head trademark!

When you see this distinguished modern car, you'll certainly want to drive it! And when you drive it, we promise you'll experience an honest-to-goodness new sensation. Please accept our friendly invitation to ride and drive in Pontiac, the car that makes all roads smooth. Start the new year right! Let Pontiac show you the way to a completely new kind of low-cost motoring enjoyment and satisfaction.
