MULTIPLICITY OF FORMS

One good thing was said by Sir Henry Drayton in his address at Vancouver recently. He bemoaned the multiplicity of forms that had to be filled in by business firms. He is perfectly right there. The number is legion and the filling in costs the business people a good deal of money in preparing the figures. Then the government, federal or provincial, spends thousands of dollars summarizing the returns and distributing the findings.

The Federal Government has a Bureau of Statistics which issues a bulletin daily on all kinds of subjects, many of which are very interesting, but the work of compiling the original statistics by the firms that fill in the forms, the cost of mailing and the cost of compiling and issuing the information is very costly. It would each year be enough to run the provincial government for many weeks.

The cost of compiling this information is borne by the Canadian consumer of the goods produced.

In regard to the income tax forms, there have been for years two separate forms, one for the province and the other for the Dominion. If they were similar the time taken to fill them out would be small but unhappily they are different in their requirements. All that the unfortunate taxpayer knows is that he must fill up the forms, must swear that they are correct and must pay the tax.

SHOULD RECOGNIZE RUSSIA

Great Britain and United States have officially recognized the Union of Soviet Republics, better known to us as Russia, but so far Canada has held aloof. Trade relations were established some years ago but those were broken off because it was found that Russia was using its trade envoys as agents for communist propaganda.

It does not matter what we may think of the kind of government Russia has established. If it suits them, we should have no kick coming as long as they do not interfere with us. It seems to be working pretty well there. At any rate the country is fairly well satisfied with it.

Russia is a neighbor of ours. Vladivostok is just across the Pacific and may possibly do a great deal of commerce with Prince Rupert in the days to come. We do not have to become communist in order to do business with them. By recognizing the Soviet government officially we put ourselves in the position of being able to trade with them or to negotiate treaties. We may not send a minister to Moscow but can do our business through the British minister. It seems like a reasonable suggestion that we put ourselves in the way of doing business if it should offer. People point to Britain as an example in many matters. Here is a case where Britain took the lead years ago.

Because it doesn't pay to advertise poor products, it does pay to buy those advertised.

ESSINGTON IS BEATEN

One-Sided Hoop Game — High School and Trojans Win Titles

The Intermediate Merchants, strengthened by two senior players, had an easy 46-15 win over Port Essington in basketball last night. The first half was a very poor display, the Merchants being unable to click at all, being behind 10-13 at half time. After the interval, the Merchants completely outclassed their opponents, running in 28 points before the Essington squad tallied. Walter Johnson refereed the game in a very capable manner.

The Intermediate play-off battle was packed with thrills as the Warriors tried vainly to overcome a five-point lead which the Students had gained in Monday night's battle.

The game opened cautiously, both teams waiting for a break which didn't come and they were still playing carefully when the first half ended, the score being 11-11.

Nakamoto and Santerbane, playing dual combination, put the Students in the lead but the forward line of the Warriors turned on the heat and took a point lead just before the gun went but they were still five points in arrears.

The Trojans, a gang of kids who eat, think and sleep basketball, climbed to the top of their short hoop career when they tucked the Junior Division championship away by defeating the Scouts by a lopsided score of 34-10. Scouts were defeated in every department of the game.

The West Enders know practically every trick of the game. They pass the ball like bullets out of a rifle and can snare baskets whenever they want them. One could not pick out any individual stars as they all turned in a good game.

WHIFFLETS

From the Waterfront

Having spent the winter in Vancouver where a new 60 h.p. Vivian diesel engine was installed, the well known Prince Rupert halibut boat Vera Beatrice, Capt. J. D. Thurber, arrived in port last night on her way to the fishing grounds for her maiden trip of the 1934 season. The Vera Beatrice will pick up her gear, outfit and get away for the deep sea fisheries by the end of the week, it is expected.

The American halibut boats Eureka and Ivanhoe arrived in port last evening from Seattle, being on their way to the banks for their first trips following the opening of the 1934 season.

After having spent a month engaged in scientific research work in Queen Charlotte Island halibut areas, the big Seattle schooner Eagle, Capt. Jacob Engdal, under charter to the International Fisheries Commission and with John L. Kask as scientist in charge, arrived in Prince Rupert last night and, after spending a day or so in port

LEGION IN LEAD STILL

Maintains Comfortable Margin At Top of Billiards Although Defeated by Grotto

In the final postponed game from last Thursday's Billiard League fixture between Grotto and Canadian Legion, John May, Grotto, defeated Alex Harvey, Legion, by a score of 200 to 191 last night, giving the aggregate victory to the Grotto by a score of 1185 to 1102.

The Canadian Legion now has a margin of 138 points over the second place Empress team in the aggregate standing for the second half of the season and the two teams will meet on Thursday evening of this week in a crucial fixture which will more than likely determine honors for the period.

Grotto, which still has a remote chance to win the second half, will meet the cellar-dwelling Elks tonight, with line-ups as follows:

C. P. Balagno, Elks vs. Don Brown, Grotto.

William Stuart vs. Earl Batt. Harry Menzie vs. George Howe. Earl Morris vs. John May. J. Doherty vs. Bert Morgan. John Bulger vs. S. D. Macdonald.

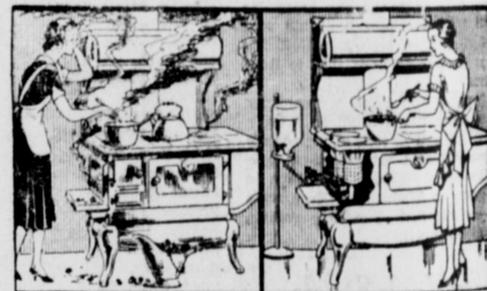

The second half standing to date.
