PREMIER'S DEPARTURE IS FURTHER DEFERRED

Departure of Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia, for Ottawa to attend the Dominion-provincial conference on unemployment and other matters has been further deferred until Wednesday afternoon's train, it was announced last evening. While the condition of the Premier, who has been a patient at the Prince Rupert General Hospital for over a week suffering from a nasal infection, is considerably improved and the infection has been definitely checked, it was stated that his medical attendants considered it unwise for him to proceed with his intention of leaving for the east today.

Probably the most severe sufferer as a result of the gale was the hangar of the Northern B. C. Airways which broke away from its moorings and was left deposited on the steep bank alongside the railway track. The roof structure was, apparently, broken in two but a survey had not been made up to noon of the full extent of damage to the building.

At Digby Island the main aerial of the Dominion radiotelegraph station was carried away.

A small pleasure boat belonging to Mr. Bond was sunk at Cow Bay.

One hundred feet or so of the railing of the vehicular ramp to the Canadian National wharf was carried to the wharf below.

Lumber in Albert & McCaffery's yard was strewn about.

Uptown part of the top front of a warehouse on Fraser Street formerly owned by Fred Stork and now used by Howard Steen was carried away.

Signs and plate glass windows were damaged, premises which suffered window breakage including First Baptist Church, Ormes Limited, the Alder Block, F. W. Chandler's photographic studio and William Goldbloom's fur factory.

The gale howled through the remains of the old Auditorium on Sixth Avenue West, which was almost destroyed by fire some months ago.

The occasion being their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, a large number of friends joined in a surprise visit Saturday night on Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, well known and popular pioneer residents of the city, at their home on Ninth Avenue West. On January 6, 1909, Mr. and Mrs. Smith were married at Liverpool, England, leaving immediately for Canada, having lived here practically ever since.

The evening was spent in games and dancing and there was a mock marriage. Refreshments were served and the wedding cake was cut by Mrs. George Howe, Ben Johnston proposed a toast to Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Mr. Smith and George Howe responded.

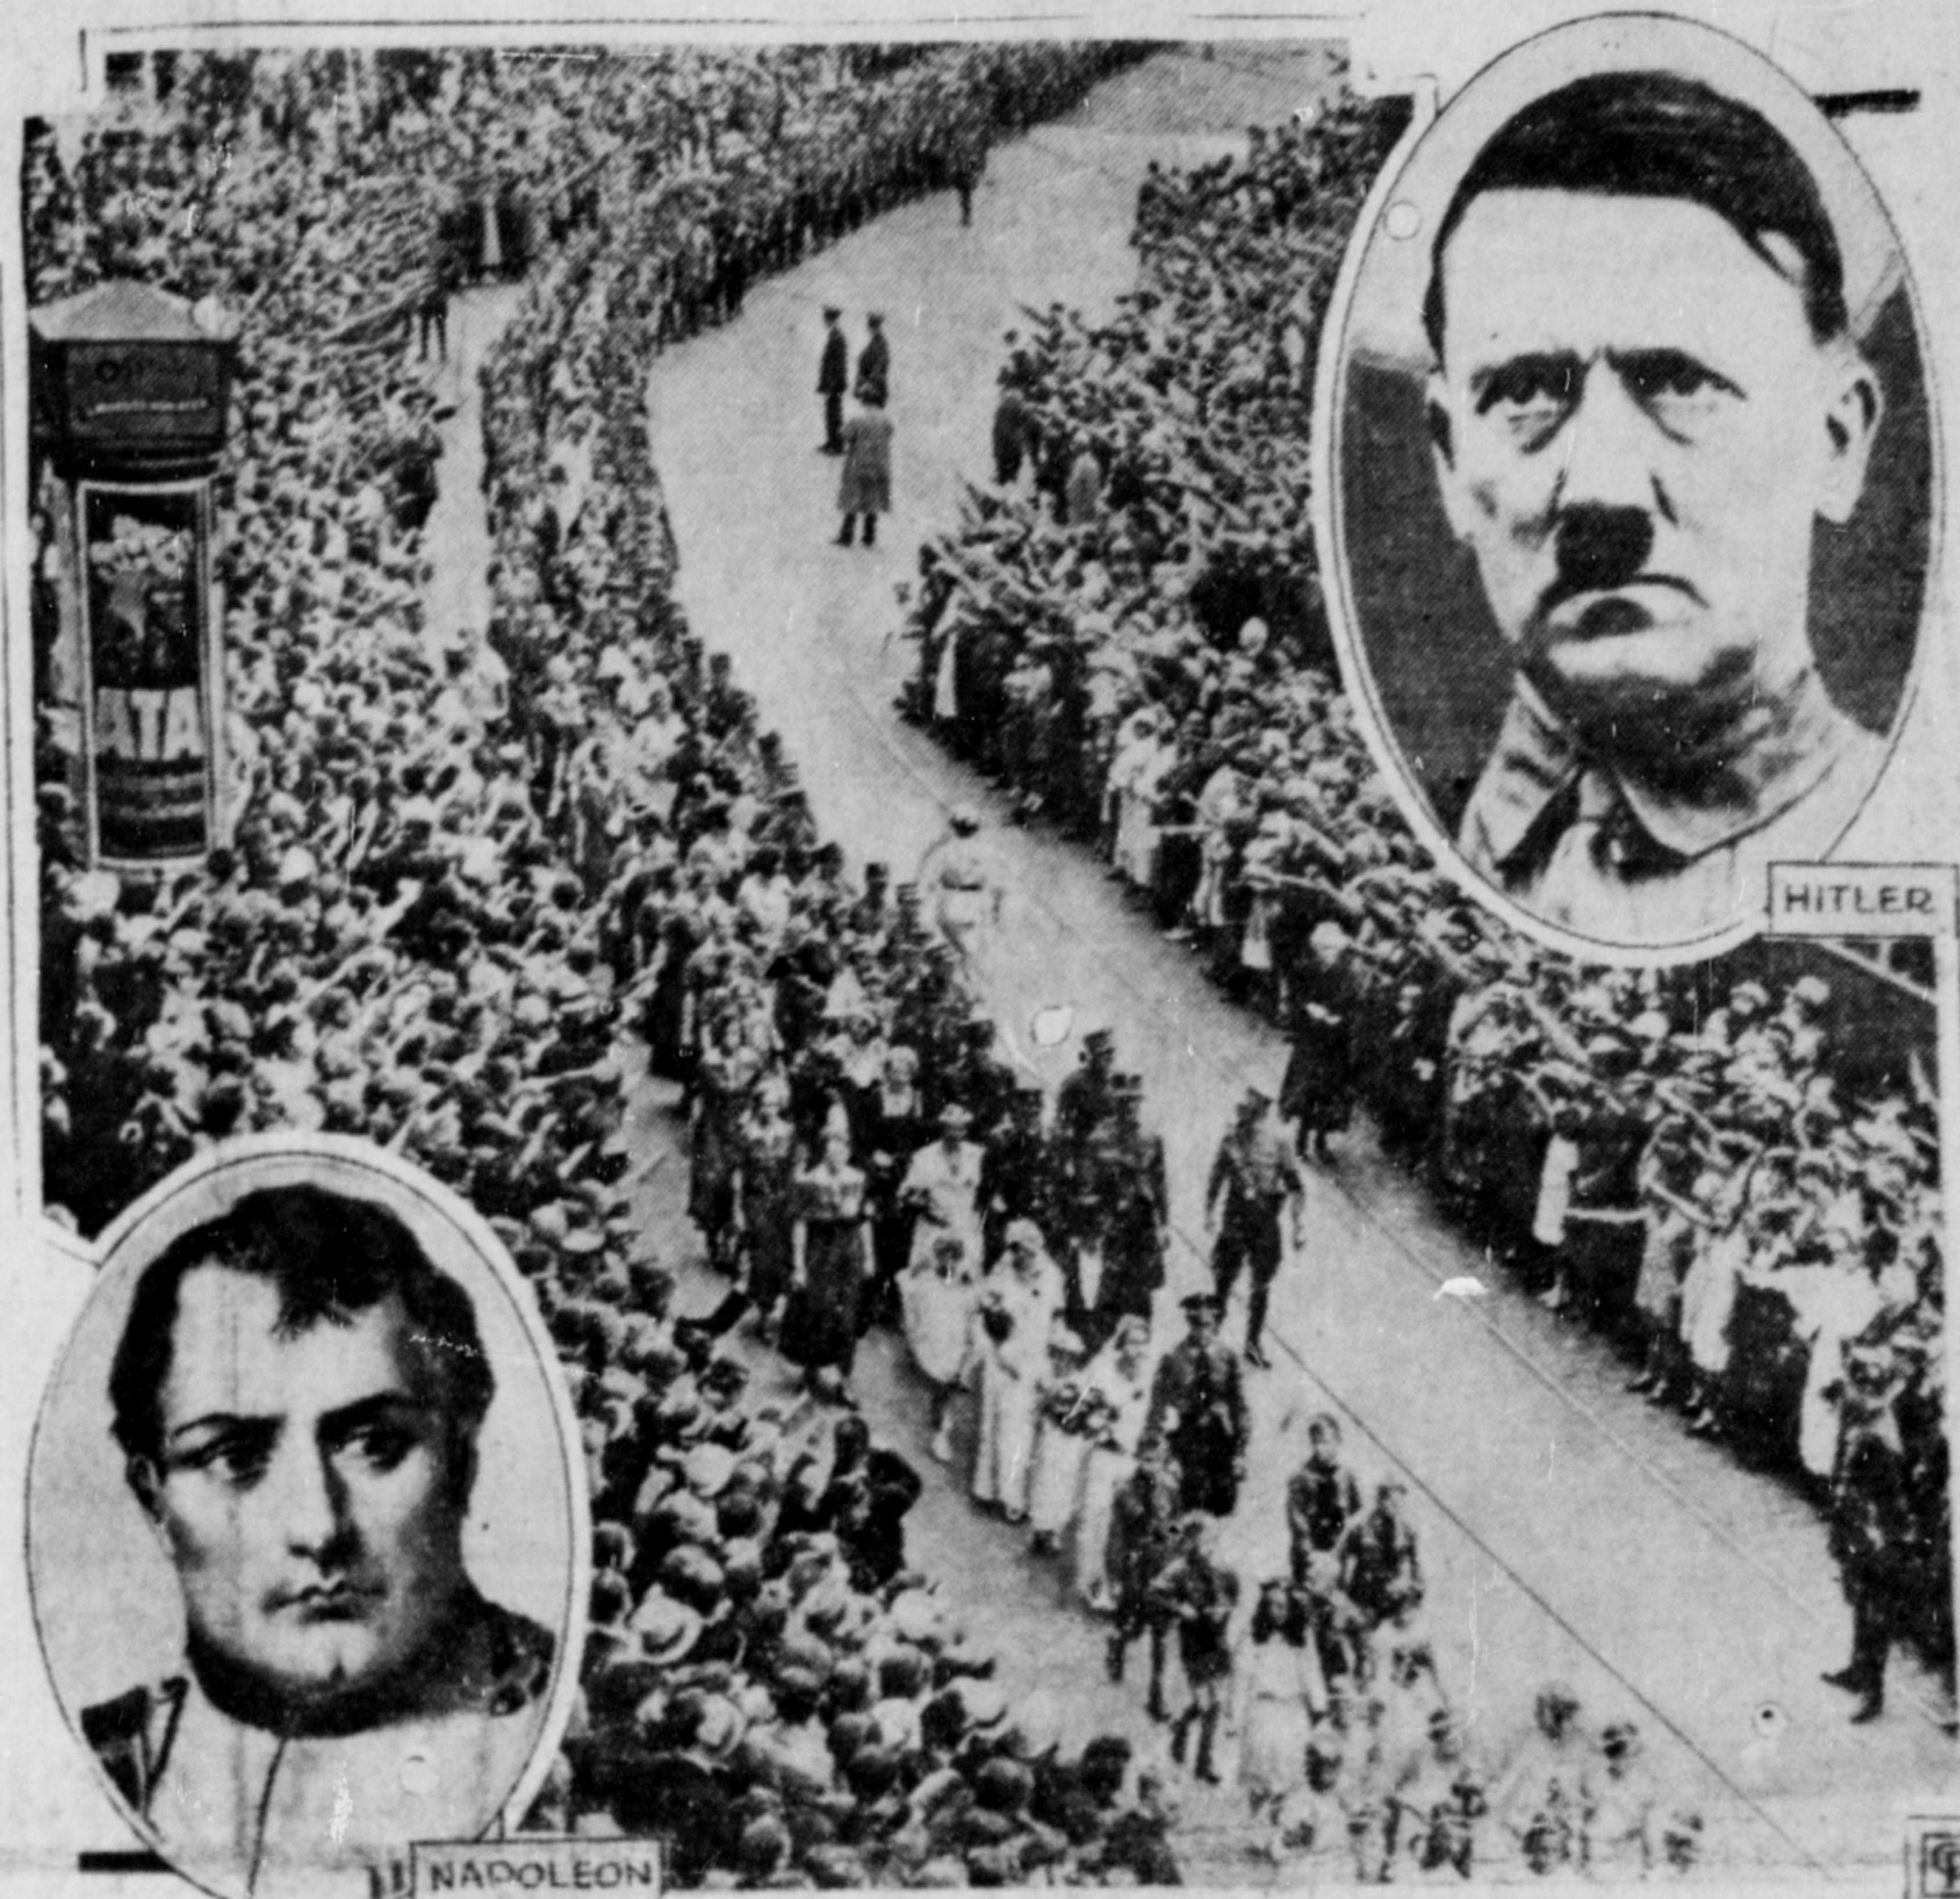

Mr. and Mrs. Smith received numerous beautiful gifts of silver.

Hitler's Mass Weddings Rival Napoleon's

Mass marriages have become the order of the day in Germany under the rule of Adolf Hitler. Picture shows 30 Hitlerites and their brides-to-be marching to a ceremony in Berlin. But the Nazi dictator still has to go some to equal the weddings en masse during the time of Napoleon Bonaparte, emperor of another day. When Napoleon Marie Louise he promised dowries to 6,000 girls of "irreproachable character" who would wed 6,000 of his soldiers. On April 29, 1910, the marriages were celebrated simultaneously before the eyes of Napoleon's officials, and the dowries were paid.

IS FROZEN TO DEATH

More Particulars Received of Recent Death on Trail in Prince George District

Divisional headquarters of the provincial police here were advised a few days ago that the body of a man had been found on a trail alongside Slim Lake, eighteen miles south of Penny in the Prince George district. According to later word which has now been received, the body was that of Onufry Lewoniuk who perished from exposure and exhaustion. A 35-year old Pole, he had been shacking for the winter with Charles Hartzell and Fred Rankin, the latter a trapper. Evidently, deceased had made a trip to the lake to catch some fish and had become wet from wading in slush on the lake. He did not have the strength to complete the tramp back to the shack and had dropped on the trail and froze to death.

Provincial Constables Soles and Murray of Prince George were dispatched to investigate after the finding of the body was reported. It was 42 below zero and Murray had trouble with one of his snowshoes with the result that he and his fellow officer were forced to return to Penny, both suffering frozen toes. With Joe Boudreau as guide, Soles resumed the trip and located the body which, after it was ascertained death was due to exposure, was buried beside the lake.

Lewoniuk had served in the Polish National Guard before coming to Canada in 1927. He was single and had been in the unemployed camp at Penny before going to live with Hartzell and Rankin.
