From the Waterfront

With a capacity list of passengers, most of whom were round trip tourists for Alaska, C. N. R. steamer Prince George, Capt. H. E. Nedden, arrived here at 9:45 a.m. yesterday from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and sailed at 1 o'clock in the afternoon for Skagway and other northern points whence she will return here next Monday southbound. All accommodation on the vessel was filled.

Sailing from here this Saturday evening, C. N. R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean, is already assured of being full ship. Indeed, there is already a substantial waiting list for accommodation. The vessel is running a special round trip for one way excursion from Anyox, Stewart and Prince Rupert to Vancouver, good returning on the Prince George on Friday of the following week or on the Prince Rupert on the Friday of the week later.

Southbound from the Naas River to Vancouver, Union Steamship Co.'s freighter Chilliwack, Capt. W. W. Mounce, arrived in port at 7:30 last evening and spent a few hours here. The vessel brought north cargo for cannery points along the coast and is taking shipments of canned salmon back into Vancouver.

Frank Waterhouse freighter Northolm sailed yesterday afternoon for Vancouver with 177 tons of screenings loaded from the Alberta Wheat Pool's local elevator. This makes a total of 331 tons of screenings to be shipped from here within a week, the freighter Grainer having sailed on Wednesday of last week with 154 tons, also for Vancouver.

The Seattle power yacht Marlyn, with Fred Hardwick and party on board, arrived in port yesterday afternoon from the north following an Alaska cruise and continued its homeward voyage this morning. The Marlyn is well known here, having been a frequent visitor to the port in the past.
