How Noted Scientist Would Outlaw War

A ray wall projected in curtains miles high around a country's borders to destroy invading hostile aeroplanes, has been announced by Nikola Tesla above, famous inventor as his 78th birthday gift to the world for "outlawing war". Rivalling the fictional fantasies of Jules Verne H. G. Wells, and other "utopians", the electrical wizard's plan, which he proposes to offer to the Geneva peace conference, would disable any attacking sky e by means of fast moving ray particles despatched from land fortresses surrounding great cities or from ray machines on warships.

CLAXTON IS TO REOPEN

Will be Canning Fish Monday-Fire Said to Have Originated In Ammonia Pipes

Passengers arriving on the Cardena last evening who were present when the vessel was at Claxton cannery in the morning say the general opinion seemed to be that the fire originated from an escapement from the ammonia pipes. The vessel was just approaching the cannery about half past ten when the officers saw smoke coming from the cold storage power plant. Very soon the place was ablaze. At once Captain Georgeson ordered the pumps manned and every hose on he vessel was trained on the blaze. The cannery crew also worked with will and in that way the fire was prevented from spreading. The ;tore rooms, were saved but the power and freezing plant and uilding were destroyed together vith half a million pounds of fish belonging to Edmunds and Walker. No estimate has reached here of the amount of damage. Operations at the cannery have stopped temporarily but it will be operating again when the fishing begins again Monlay, following the weekly closed
