MATCHWOOD LOGS HERE

Shipments of White Poplar From Interior to China Through Here Commencing

Five carloads of white poplar logs cut by M. M. Connelly of Fraser Lake to fill an order from China for matchwood timber arrived here Saturday night on the regular mixed train from Tintagel and are being unloaded today at the lumber assembly wharf whence the timber will be shipped later to the Orient. Twenty-five ESSINGTON cars of the timber is expected to arrive here by early next month. The logs run in the vicinity of twenty feet in length with a minimum diameter of ten inches.

It was not known definitely up to this morning as to the arrangements for trans-shipping the logs from here. It was originally planned that they should be sent from here to Vancouver in scows and across the Pacific from the southern port. Later, however, it was reported that a freighter would come here to load them for the Orient direct. Of course, there are not enough here yet to warrant the latter being in Prince Rupert in the person of tended until after his return. George B. White who succumbed to a heart attack on the roof of his home on Fourth Avenue East near KILLED IN McBride Street while engaged in repairing a chimney. Although he had been subject to heart trouble for years, he had apparently been in normal health and spirits right to he end. Only a few minutes before Miss Barbara Wood, Baughter of ie collapsed and expired he had eturned from a trip downtown. It is believed possible that the extra xertion of climbing on to the roof night have brought on the final attack. Dr. L. W. Kergin was at once called but, by the time the physician arrived, deceased was beyond nedical aid and life was pronouned extinct. The fire department was called at 4 p.m. to assist in removing the body from the roof.

Born November 24, 1865, in Kewanee, Ill., of old American stock. he late Mr. White was raised on a farm in Nebraska state and, when young man, moved to Canada and took up farming at Ponoka, Alta, After a brief residence at Deer Park on the Lower Arrow Lake, Mr. White came to Prince Rupert for the original sale of town lots in May 1909 and 5c. and bought into real estate here. making his home in the city since. In the early days he was engaged for a time in conducting an ironworks shop and of more recent years had engaged in salmon fishing. A man of great physique, he had been in his younger days in the mid-western states a professiona baseball player for a time.

In 1890 the late Mr. White was married to Mary A. Cerveny at Pittsburg ? . Besides the widow. he leaves to mourn his loss two sons, Julius George White in San Francisco and Isaac Cline White in Los Angeles. Marjorie White of Los Angeles is a granddaughter, and Lyle White, also of Los Angeles, is a grandson.
