ACTIVITY IN SPORT

Canadian Legion Has Always Taken Part in Encouraging Clean Athletics in City

It is only right that the sporting element in the community should add their congratulations to the Canadian Legion on their activity in the city. There are few lines of sport in which the returned men are not interested.

During the winter the Canadian Legion won the first half of the City Cribbage League and the Legion Billiard team won the second half of the billiard tournament.

But the Legion's interest in football is of particular note. The Legion runs a football team. Last year the team won all four trophies. There are two other football teams in the City Football Association. The president of the Merchants Football team is J. Preece, who is also president of the Canadian Legion, while the president of the Regiment Football team is J. S. Wilson, who is secretary-treasurer of the Legion itself. What happens at the different games when these Legion officials are boosting against the Legion team—and what happens after?

Then the Legion is proud to number in its ranks many good marksmen. It is specially proud of the achievements of Bill Brass. Last year Bill won the C. N. R. small arms championship open to all branches of the C. N. R. in Canada. This year he went better—he won the small arms championship open to all people of all organizations, military, naval, air force and civilian, and he had to make five perfect scores to win.

The Canadian Legion is a strong supporter of clean healthy sport. Congratulations and long life!

FOOTBALL WAS DRAW

Merchants and Legion Played to Tie in Fixture Last Night

Merchants took the lead in the race for the Gilhuly Football Cup by holding Canadian Legion to a one-all tie last night in a fast, hard fought game. Merchants have now drawn two games which gives them two points while Legion and Regiment have each one point to their credit. The start of last night's game was again delayed by non-appearance of players, Canadian Legion being the chief offenders in this respect.

Both teams dished up a good brand of soccer and kept the large crowd of fans on their toes throughout. Merchants were fortunate to finish on equal terms as the Legion sharpshooters were awarded two penalty kicks and failed to score in each case. Gurvich saved both penalties in fine style although it is true that both shots were directed straight at the goal. With the Vets playing downhill in the first half they did most of the attacking and should have enjoyed a comfortable lead at the cross over but weak finishing in front of goal spoiled many good scoring opportunities. Smith, in the Vets' goal, did not have one direct shot to handle in the entire first half, so much did the Legion dominate the play in this period. In the opening minutes a miskick by Howe in front of goal spelt danger for the Merchants but the ball was finally scrambled away. Hunt giving away an abortive corner in the process. Thurber passed to Bussanich whose shot was saved by Gurvich at the expense of another fruitless corner. In another Legion attack, H. Dickens fouled Baptie but the resultant free kick was cleared. Merchants then made progress on the left wing and Chenoski forced J. Currie to give away a corner but Chenoski placed weakly behind. Shortly afterwards MacKay had a good opportunity to score but shot past. Play veered up to the other end and, during a hot attack on the Merchants' goal, MacKay was adjudged to have fouled Greer in the dreaded area and Referee R. B. Skinner unhesitatingly awarded a penalty. Christison was entrusted with the spot kick but shot straight at Gurvich who cleared. A golden opportunity was lost. Palmer, Webster and Bussanich put in shots in quick succession but Gurvich was not found wanting and cleared his charge. Midfield play followed but, soon after, the Legion again took up the offensive. Howe fouled Baptie just outside the penalty area. Baptie took the free kick but again Gurvich saved the Merchants' goal from falling. Shortly afterwards, however, he was beaten by a neat header from Christison on a lovely cross from Baptie on the Vets' right wing. This was after twenty-nine minutes of play. The Legion had certainly dominated play in the first half and was fully entitled to its one goal lead at half time.

Second Half

It was an entirely different story on the resumption. The Merchants set out with determination to turn the tables on their opponents and Carroll got away on the right, his parting effort just going outside. A. Dickens was right through but J. Currie blocked his shot to save a dangerous situation. The "Butter and Egg" men were hammering away at the Vets' goal in a desperate effort to secure the equalizer and were awarded three corner kicks in as many minutes but were unable to penetrate the Soldier's strong defence. In a breakaway Christison was right through at the other end when H. Dickens dashed up to sweep the legs from under the Legion centre forward. Baptie tried his luck with the resultant penalty kick but shot weakly at Gurvich who cleared. This was indeed fortunate for Merchants. From the goal kick play was carried right to the other end and Howe put in a good shot but Smith saved. J. Currie fouled A. Dickens when the latter was almost through. Howe, instead of trying a shot at goal himself, elected to pass to Chenoski who shot past. After eleven minutes' play the Merchants were rewarded by a goal from Hunt whose shot took Smith by surprise. The right half lobbed a high ball over the heads of several defenders and had the satisfaction of seeing the sphere drop behind Smith's outstretched hands for the equalizing goal. On the resumption S. Currie secured possession and passed out to Palmer on the left who put in a grand shot which flashed across the Merchants' goal but nobody was there to put it home. Both teams were now fighting hard for the lead but Merchants continued to have most of the play. Loken, A. Dickens and Chenoski all had shots of the Vets' goal without success. The Soldier's goal underwent a strong attack lasting several minutes. No fewer than five corner kicks were awarded the Merchants but they were unable to secure the lead. MacKay had hard lines when a terrific shot was blocked by a Legion defender.

The Legion was indulging in too much artistic play midfield to expect to get goals and after all it is goals that count. Bussanich passed out to Baptie who in turn transferred to Palmer but H. Dickens dashed across and intercepted the winger's effort. In the closing minutes Webster and Christison indulged in a smart movement before passing to Baptie. Gurvich saved Baptie's shot. The end came shortly afterwards after a really fast and exciting game.

Arthur Robertson, well known Masset sawmill operator, and Mrs. Robertson are paying a brief visit to the city. They arrived from the islands on the Prince John this morning and will return to Masset Friday night.
