A Little Pump Controls Your Life Stream

The world's most wonderful pump is the human heart. It | 10 lbs. pumps blood faster than a strong man can pump water from a well -and this despite the fact that blood is seven times as sticky as water and, in consequence, is ever so much harder to pump.

This marvellous piece of human machinery keeps your blood stream in constant motion. It pumps the red blood corpusclesloaded with vital Oxygen from the lungs-to your millions of body cells. After unloading the Oxygen, the red corpuscles load up with the gas poison forever being generated in the human system. The heart pumps this poison to the lungs, to be breathed out of the system. If your heart were to stop pumping, you would die in a few seconds for lack of oxy-

Now, in order to do their work effectively, your red blood corpuscles must be rich in what is known as haemoglobin-a substance having the power to absorb the oxygen and the poisonous gas. When your haemoglobin is below normal, your blood stream is weak, and you feel "tired-out." run-down and nervously-exhausted. Restore the haemoglobin to normal, and you are once more strong, energetic and vigorous.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do that very thing. This is not just a claim: it is an established fact. recently proven at a hospital where 40 people, treated with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, each recorded splendid blood improvement and, with it, renewed health and
