AN ABSURD ARGUMENT

If anything more is needed to prove the utter unfitness of the anti-reciprocity candidate in his aspirations to represent Comox-Atlin at Ottawa, it is to be found in the articles he has written in an attempt to show that the reciprocity agreement if put into practice will make food dearer.

The articles are so childish and immature as to be beneath serious notice. The writer of them may test the absurdity of his labored efforts by a very simple test. If as he says, the abolition of taxes on food is going to make food dearer, then the adding of more taxes ought to make it cheaper, which, as Euclid would say "is an absurd conclusion."

The articles are entirely absurd—palpably absurd.

WHAT RECIPROCITY WILL DO

In addition to reducing the cost of living, opening up great markets for our lumber, our fish and our minerals, reciprocity will double the present population of Prince Rupert. This statement is made on the authority of J. P. Todd of Seattle, whom the Seattle Daily Times declares is "the best posted man on fishing matters in the Northwest."

Not that J. P. Todd is a friend of reciprocity. J. P. Todd is allied to those "interests" who prosper under a tariff. His men have been accustomed to go in their boats out to the Canadian halibut banks and load up. The Canadian fishermen could not come into the market. There was a duty of a cent a pound on the fish caught by a Canadian fisherman. This corralled the market for J. P. Todd and the Seattle fishermen, leaving the Canadian fishermen out in the cold.

This is what J. P. Todd says in an interview in the Seattle Daily Times:

"Under the reciprocity bill fish are admitted free of duty. If this measure carries, the halibut fleet that makes Seattle its headquarters will move to Prince Rupert as soon as the Grand Trunk Pacific is completed to the Coast." "The loss to Seattle will be whatever money or business 6,000 fishermen involve."

What money and business do six thousand fishermen involve? In the first place there are the wives and families of the married fishermen. Six thousand fishermen will have at least six thousand dependents; probably twice that amount.

Six thousand fishermen will need between them several thousand homes. These homes will have to be built by Prince Rupert carpenters. They will have to be built on lots at present held by lot owners in this city.

Six thousand fishermen and their families will need food, they will need clothes, they will bring abundant wants with them, all of which the merchants of Prince Rupert will have to satisfy.

Six thousand fishermen will need boats and repairs. The trade of a fleet of six thousand fishermen in Prince Rupert will keep a shipyard and several engine works busy.

J. P. Todd "the best posted man on fishing matters in the Northwest" states that if reciprocity carries six thousand fishermen and all the money and business involved with them will move from Seattle to Prince Rupert.

Every voter in Prince Rupert without regard to the usual considerations of party should vote for the reciprocity candidate when the time comes.

Six thousand fishermen with all the money and business they involve is just what Prince Rupert needs.

C.P.R. OFFICIAL BOOSTS RUPERT

J. J. Foster Travelling Passenger Agent of the Great Company is Big Enough to Believe in the G. T. P. Terminus.

"There's going to be something doing in this city. It's going to be a hummer," quoth J. J. Foster of Seattle, travelling passenger agent for the C. P. R. Atlantic lines, one hour and thirty minutes after he had crossed the gang plank of the ever popular S.S. Princess May yesterday afternoon.

Back in the coast cities and in the big centers across the plains Mr. Foster met many people who wanted to wade chin deep in a community where hopes, that could be realized if backed up with a rolled up sleeve and stiff upper lip tied on to a little patience. They know Prince Rupert is the place and they are coming hither.

This was what Mr. Foster was led to say after he had been shown round a little by J. G. McNab, C. P. R. agent here.

"Tour of inspection and on business," answered the visitor when questioned by the News what he was doing here. He left later for Skagway and on business for the company whose arms of travel extend around the world.

HANDS THAT HELP

Not Soft and White but Very Very Useful

As an example of trademarks have you ever noticed the hands of the hospital nurse? The soft white hand which in fiction is occupied in cooling fevered brows does not exist and could not. It is a skilled hand, but its work makes it rough and chapped. Try bathing your hands in disinfectants twenty times a day and you will find that, look after them as you may, they will soon be seamed with cracks, which an east wind often turns to bleeding cuts. And as they are working hard for some twelve or thirteen hours a day the nurse takes a somewhat larger size in gloves than most women. If you ever see the photograph of a hospital nurse you may observe that she prefers to keep those hands behind her back.

NEW STYLE IN HAIR

Young Lady Surprises the Tonsorial Artist Up River

A Hazelton barber got the tonsorial surprise of his career the other day when a pretty young woman walked in, sat down in his chair, removed her hat, leaned back and said:

"Cut it short please." "Short hair is all the rage," she continued. "In France and in Germany you're not considered 'it' if long tresses are worn. The 'coiffure' style, the 'Marcell wave,' 'bangs' 'rats,' and the 'bun' are all out of date. I want a 'classic' haircut."

She waited for the shears. "She had a 'Buster Brown' cut when she came into the shop," said the artist, "but she said she wanted a close trim. I cut her hair 'round' in the back, just as they give the college boys, and shaved her neck. I did not chop her hair off in the front, but left it long enough to comb back over her forehead. On the sides I cut it 'full fluff.' When she left she could wear her hat without hat pins."

A gallery of about 100 males followed every clip of the scissors over the young woman's head, and stopped to talk it over long after she had left the barber shop.
