St. Peter's Tea And Sale Tuesday Delightful Event

A delightful tea and sale of home cooking and sewing was held Tuesday afternoon by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Peter's Anglican Church at the home of Mrs. F. W. Stamp-Vincent, the convener of the affair being Mrs. J. D. Allen. Despite the unfavorable weather, many ladies called and were received by the hostess. The rooms were prettily decorated with mauve and white flowers, the tea table being centred with a bowl of red roses which were presented by Mrs. S. M. Johnson. The affair was financially successful.

Mrs. W. H. Goodsell and Mrs. A. H. Hill-Tout were in charge of the sale of home cooking and Mrs. W. O. Vigar, the sale of needlework. Mrs. A. Frebourg was cashier and serviteers were Mrs. W. G. Smith, Mrs. H. A. Ponder and Mrs. G. Sievert.

The Railways Offer Special Vacation Inducements.

All railways are anxious that the public should regard them as more than mere mechanical means of transportation. They wish each patron to feel that he is the object of personal and friendly interest, and that the magnitude of a railway's operations does not obscure the important fact that when all is said and done it is what the patron thinks that really matters. Passenger traffic, it is realised, can only be built up by obtaining and holding the goodwill and approval of those who travel, and it therefore follows that all factors which affect the traveller merit and receive careful study.

One present factor has been fully taken into account. Today people do not have the spending power—nor the spending desires—of a few years ago, and so, as an addition to the regular services, special fares and excursions have been arranged to meet these conditions. For the long distance traveller there is at present in operation the popular cent-a-mile rate which enables the East to visit the West, and the West to return the compliment, at an exceedingly low cost, while for the traveller whose journey is shorter, there are frequent special trips at attractive fares. There are also reduced fares for week-ends and low rates for special one-day excursions, as well as for trips extending over three or four days, and for organized groups of travellers consisting of more than ten adults reduced fares are obtainable.

When the other things which railways provide are considered, travel at these fares represents the most economical transportation available. Whatever the fare paid, there is provided the essential quality of safety; there is a maximum of comfort and attention. There are at night restful sleeping facilities at extremely low cost, and on long journeys there are inexpensive but attractive and nicely served meals.

It is the endeavour of the railways to please. Suggestions for improvement are welcomed and carefully considered. The passenger is important and his wishes must be paramount.

It will prove well worth your while to find out what the railways can do regarding that trip you have in mind. Our agents everywhere are at your service.
