

WILL EXPLOIT THE OIL FIELDS

Local Syndicate Form a Company to Bore for Oil in Queen Charlottes.

As a consequence of the reports of their expert, and the samples of oil-bearing shales and asphaltum brought from their property, an influential syndicate of local men have formed themselves into a company to bore for oil on Graham Island. The new company will be known as the Queen Charlotte Oil Company, with a capital of a million dollars.

A strong provisional board with Dr. Kergin as president, Mr. Geo. Tite as vice president and Mr. William Vickers as secretary treasurer was elected, and incorporation will be proceeded with.

Boring for oil is being conducted on sections adjoining those held by the company. According to the report of the company's expert, the territory which has been designated as oil territory by the Dominion geologists, is said to be more promising and to have stronger indications than any he has seen in California. It is possible that none of the stock will be offered to the general public.

Up to Date Grand Trunk

The announcement that the Grand Trunk Railway company will use the telephone for train despatching over its entire system is very interesting, says the Fort George Herald. It may be recalled that when the telephone first came into use, a suggestion was made that it should be employed for this purpose, but objection was taken that there would be no record of orders thus given.

The Wharf Trouble

Mr. W. E. Dewig, secretary of the Longshoremen's Union writes the News that the trouble at the wharf yesterday had nothing to do with the Pacific Stevedoring Company, but with the officers of the steamer British Empire who had engaged non-union men.

"BILLY" KNEW HIS MASTER

Loyal Little Skye Terrier Which Alone Knows the Secret of the Old Crabman's Death Rejoined His Owner Mr. Metz Last Night.

"Billy" the sociable little Skye terrier which spent the long dreary vigil beside the body of the drowned crabman George Lichtenauer, across the harbor three weeks ago, has found his own real master at last. Billy was lent by J. Metz to old George while Mr. Metz went to Port Essington, and Billy is the only living creature who knows exactly how the poor old crabman met his death.

Found by a News reporter, wet and bedraggled, up to his neck in the chilly water which had gradually driven him back from beside the corpse left uncovered at first by the tide, Billy was intensely grateful for the home he found temporarily in care of the "Daily News." But last night Billy encountered his own master Mr. Metz just landing at the G. T. P. boat slip, and the mutual recognition was as pretty as a picture.

"Why, where have you been, Billy?" exclaimed Mr. Metz patting the shaggy little doggie.

Billy did his best to explain in the clearest of dog language. After a talk with his master, he remembered his friends of the "Daily News" and introduced them to Mr. Metz. Explanations followed between the "Humans" Billy nodding assent, and wagging his tail to punctuate the story. Then as Harry Lauder says "The time for parting came." For just an instant loyal little Billy hesitated between friends and master. Then with the politest of bow-wow bows to the "Daily News," he trotted off joyfully beside Mr. Metz. Billy will now live with his master across at Digby Island.

RUSH FOR LOTS IN TERRACE

valleys, settlers are getting their land into profitable productive condition, and in the near future the bridge across the Skeena at Little Canyon, which means so much to the district, will be complete. With all these advantages Terrace is in fact two solid years ahead of every other interior town. Mr. Little who is the owner of the townsite is most anxious that nothing except the truth shall be said or written about the place, and the confidence of the local investors in the property is shown by the number of Prince Rupert people who have already purchased lots.

Here are a few of them: A. E. McMaster, Grand Trunk Pacific Passenger Agent, A. J. Morris (firm of J. Piercy Morris & Co.); Arthur Cuthbert, Provincial Assessor; W. C. Mehan, General Superintendent G. T. P. Railway; W. A. McNicholl, Grand Trunk Pacific Company; Thomas N. Dunn; Leon Chester Mackin; Walter Owens, Chief of Provincial Police; J. H. McMullin, Provincial Government Agent; Arthur C. Little; Harry Rochester; Chas. Munroe; F. A. Ellis; Messrs. Stuart & Mobley, Wholesale Provision Merchants; J. K. Gordon; Messrs. McCaffery & Gibbons; George D. Tite; Robert Jennings; Provincial Road Superintendent; William Manson, Mayor of Prince Rupert; Mr. Holtby and Mrs. A. Lailey.

Each and every one of these citizens has either visited Terrace, or been recommended to invest there by some friend who has actually seen the townsite. They know what they are doing. To talk with someone who has visited Terrace is to gain from his description, a mental picture of a beautiful townsite naturally terraced into ideal business and residential sections, level, and easily graded. Enough has been said about its situation to prove the value of the town's prospects from the natural wealth of the Kitsumkalum and Lakelse Valleys. Messrs. McCaffery & Gibbons are selling the lots in Prince Rupert today at prices varying from $75 to $350. Terms—A quarter cash and the balance in six, twelve, or eighteen months at six per cent. The investment is a good one.

NEWSPAPER TREASURE
Copy of Illustrated London News of 1857 Found at the Wharf.

Mr. W. H. Montgomery of the Longshoremen's Union has in his possession an interesting newspaper, which he found while cleaning out the freight sheds at the wharf a couple of weeks ago. It is a copy of the Illustrated London News of October 3, 1857.

Its news and advertising columns make interesting reading. The news is principally war despatches from India where the Mutiny was then raging.

The despatches are dated July 27 and August 10—an indication of the changed news conditions. The news which took nine weeks to reach London, would now get there in about nine minutes. The literary flavor of the despatches, the poets even being invoked, is in contrast to the business like news standard of today.

There is a noticeable absence of Canadian news.
