GOLF COURSE PROPOSED

In answer to the query as to what Prince Rupert needs, the first reply received this morning is that the city needs a golf course. The writer suggests a nine-hole course commencing at McBride Street along the foot of the mountain. He suggests that the unemployed could be put to work at forty cents an hour for the winter and the city could collect a nice revenue in a year or two, presumably from fees from players. He concluded "Smithers has a golf course. Why not Prince Rupert?"

The only thing that has kept Prince Rupert from having a golf course years ago is the matter of costs. Various estimates have been made as to how much money would have to be spent to make a nine-hole course that would be good enough for a player to get enjoyment out of it. Twenty thousand dollars is about the smallest sum mentioned but the consensus of opinion is that more would be needed. In the past it was proposed to construct the course along Montreal Heights just beyond where the highway leaves Eleventh Avenue. The country there is open and the chief difficulty would be to drain the muskeg. The land is owned by the city and is so far out that it will doubtless be years before it is needed for building purposes. As our correspondent suggests it could be made a source of revenue to the city but on the other hand the cost would be great. It is probable that the average citizen would prefer to have relief money spent on roads rather than on a golf course, although it must be admitted that golf would be a great attraction to tourists, possibly the one thing needed to induce them to stop off here.

We know of no endeavor that would be of more benefit to the city than the construction of a first rate golf course and it is well worth consideration.

The Letter Box

REPLY TO NATIVES

Editor, Daily News:

A copy of this letter has been forwarded to each of the signatories to the letter which appeared in this paper on August 24.

"I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter, dated August 24, addressed to me, and which also appeared in the newspapers in this city, on the above date.

"I have inquired of the police regarding the protest which you make therein, and they emphatically informed me that the policy which they have pursued during the recent Exhibition Week has in no wise differed from that which they have ordinarily pursued during the past year or in former years, in connection with the enforcement of law and order; and also that they make no distinction between the treatment accorded to your people and that which they accord to the citizens of Prince Rupert.

"For your information I may say that, during the week ending August 25, twenty-one Indians pleaded guilty to charges of being drunk and disorderly, and one pleaded not guilty and was convicted on the evidence of three policemen. There were no acquittals. I may say further that I am informed by the police that in no case was any Indian arrested that was not disorderly."

In the first game in play-offs for the championship, the Grotto shut out the Canadian National Recreation Association by a score of six to nil. Jack Nelson, for the Grotto, was the individual star, handling nine chances with only one error, and Antonelli was a close second at first base. Hill, with a single and a three-bagger, was the best hitter.

For the C. N. R. A. Astori and Geddes played good ball while Unger was off color and made four errors. Hibbard made some good catches in centre.
