NEW EDUCATION BILL

Many people, especially those with sons and daughters who are in their teens, were glad to read that the provincial government was about to make education free up to the age of eighteen years. It goes naturally with the shortening of hours of labor that young people shall not be taken into actual industrial life too early. For the past two or three years there has been nothing for the young men to do and under those conditions it is a crime to keep them out of school and turn them on to the streets.

Evidently under the new School Act the municipalities are to be relieved to some extent in the payment of school teachers and this will undoubtedly mean that the salaries of teachers will be kept at a reasonable standard.

IMPROVEMENT IS GENERAL

There is no doubt in the world about business conditions being generally better. Factories in the east are increasing their output and farm products are being sold at a price that gives some return to the farmer. Almost daily some document comes to the Daily News office which indicates that there is an improvement in conditions. Governmental reports received as late as yesterday show that there is an improvement in employment conditions, in prices and in exports over imports. While wheat stocks in Canada are higher today than they were a year ago, the market is slightly better. The price has been stabilized to some extent by the government and thus speculation in wheat has been greatly lessened.

The difficulty in connection with the improvement is that men who have been or are out of work find themselves forced to pay higher prices than formerly. These men are still looking to the two governments at Ottawa and Victoria to make it possible for them to earn their livings respectably instead of being forced to take the miserable dole. Legislation is promised at Victoria and promises have been made at Ottawa but it is a long time to wait for the men who are wanting work and wages.

strains of "See the Conquering Heros Come," the local herd of Elks, led by their Exalted Ruler Lee Goridon, left the Moose Hall, the captain of their basketball team, Jack Dougherty, his face all smiles, bearing in his arms the celebrated Moose Legion Cup, which the Elks team had won after a well played and hard fought game.

During the first half the Moose lost their chances of scoring a big lead by their poor shooting. At the breather the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of the Moose. During the rest period the Elk rooters, led by Alex Mitchell, got busy and pepped up their team by melodious singing. It must have done them good for, on coming into action in the second half, the fans present were shown just how basketball should be played by the Elks profesional player, Harry Menzie, supported by Dougherty, Stone, Peters and Styles. This aggregation of young blood proved to the Bald headed Moose Legion team that youth will have its day by winning the game 12 to 7.

This game was the result of a challenge thrown out to the Moose Lodge from the Elks Lodge and was played at the Moose Hall where the members of the Elks were invited to a social evening by the Moose. After the game all sat down to a shrimp supper which was much enjoyed. Dictator Gillis Royer of the Moose Lodge presented the cup to the winning team and, in a few | well chosen words, welcomed the Elks. In response Exalted Ruler Lee Gordon thanked the Moose and hoped that this was the first of many such gatherings to be held.
