PROPOSED FOR INTERIOR

Difficulties of marketing, the speaker declared, were largely responsible for the existing state of affairs. There was no encouragement for the farmer to produce goods when returns were below the actual cost of production. Unforgreat extent in British Columbia particularly as far as fruit growers were concerned. The situation must be corrected so that the producer was reimbursed for his cost of production and given a fair margin of profit. Legislation along these lines had been attempted but, so far, it had been difficult to establish such legislation. Holding the volume of production to a point somewhere in keeping with the possibility of consumption was also another important factor. In addition, it was essential that the quality, grading
