MRS. MANDY INTERESTING

"Passion Play" Lecture Draws Crowded House to Cathedral

Over 260 people attended St. Andrew's Cathedral Hall last night to hear an exceptional lecture on "The Passion Play at Oberammergau" by Mrs. J. T. Mandy. It was under the auspices of Toc H.

Prior to the lecture an opening hymn, "The Lord is My Shepherd" was sung by the audience. This was followed by a solo, "It Was For Me," by John E. Davey.

Mrs. Mandy then took her audience upon a long and eventful pilgrimage from New York across the Atlantic thence overland from Cherbourg, through Paris, across France, over the border into Bavaria, passing through Munich and eventually arriving at Oberammergau, nestled amongst the Bavarian Alps.

The speaker took her hearers through this quaint old world village, describing the individual inhabitants in their everyday life and in the character each portrayed in the Passion Play. She told of the remarkable effect the performance of this play through the centuries has had upon the natives of Oberammergau, how it had produced an idealistic, simple living, clean living and truly religious people to whom all the trickeries and sharp practices of the modern business world are unknown—a truly democratic people. The impersonation of the Christ on three different occasions by Anton Long was indeed wonderful as was the presentation of the characters of the Virgin Mary; Mary Magdalene, Peter and Judas.

History of Play

In the course of her lecture Mrs. Mandy described how the Passion Play had come into being; how it was first performed in the little village church of Oberammergau to an audience of villagers in the year 1634 and at more or less regular intervals ever since. The three-hundredth anniversary performance will take place this year. Nobody but those born in the village can take part in the presentation. There are no professional actors, no make-up or any other of the modern artifices of the stage used. Yet it is a wonderful production, drawing people from the four quarters of the world. Seats are booked one year in advance.

The lecture was accompanied by a series of beautiful colored lantern pictures depicting the different actors in their roles and in their everyday life; scenes of the theatre, the village and the woodcarving workshops, also of the wonderful triangular-shaped mountain with its huge cross overlooking the whole village.

At the close of her lecture Mrs. Mandy was given an ovation. A duet, "The Crown of Thorns," by Mrs. P. H. Linzey and John E. Davey was much appreciated.

A closing hymn, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," and the benediction by Dean Gibson brought to a close a most interesting evening.

Very Rev. Dean J. B. Gibson was chairman. Dr. J. T. Mandy operated the lantern and Mrs. S. A. Kleiback accompanied the singing.

James R. Gaudin, superintendent engineer for steamships of the Yukon and White Pass Route, and Mrs. Gaudin were passengers aboard the Princess Norah; Sunday afternoon going through to Whitehorse for the season after having spent the winter in Vancouver and elsewhere in the south.

White Cooks Are Installed Today Commodore Cafe

All white cooks have been installed by James Killas at the Commodore following his recent visit to Vancouver where he secured a French chef and very competent Canadian assistants. This will make a wide appeal to those who have been objecting to Oriental cooking. In addition Mr. Killas, while in the south, made arrangements for various improvements in his cafe which will prove very attractive. The decorators will be busy directly and the whole premises will be thoroughly renovated. Jim inspected the most up-to-date cafes in the south and he plans to make his the equal of any of them.
