Many Halibut Boats Leave During Week Following Opening of Season-Bad Weather Hampers Fishing-New Concern in Local Field

Some forty local halibut boats cleared from Prince Rupert during the past week for the banks where the legal, fishing season opened as from midnight Wednesday and the early part of next week should see enough boats, particularly smaller ones, in with catches to warrant an auction being held on the local Fish Exchange. There is considerable speculation as to the level == of opening prices with the general self with the fish business of the expectation that they will be at port of Prince Rupert will be welleast fairly satisfactory. It had been comed. at first agreed that only boats with names beginning with letters from | Bert Flewin and George Brown M to Z should start out as from of Port Simpson were in town from February 26, with the A to L boats Thursday night to Friday morning delaying departure until March 5, with their packer Taplow II for a but it was found that there would brief business visit. be a number of vacancies in the M to Z list so a drawing was con-
